4 killed in area accidents

Four persons were killed and 21 injured in 13 area traffic accidents over the weekend, the highway patrol announced today. The four fatalities raised the death toll on Southeast Missouri roads this year to 103, compared to 142 persons killed at the same time last year.

Larry Dale Sullivan, 23, and David Sullivan, 49, of St. Charles and Stanley Denver Crutchfield, 23, of St. Louis were killed in a two-vehicle accident at 1:30 a.m. Saturday 15 miles north of Poplar Bluff onHighway 67.

The accident occurred when a southbound car driven by Larry Dale Sullivan crossed the center line of the highway and collided head on with a northbound truck driven by John Engram Summers, 61, of Canalou.

Summers received serious injuries and was taken to Doctors Hospital at Poplar Bluff.

The bodies of both Sullivans and Crutchfield were taken to Gish-Bowles Funeral Home in Piedmont.

Dr. Martin H. Bohnenkamp, 51, of Flat River was killed in a one-vehicle accident at 6:30 a.m. Saturday on Highway 72 two miles west of Fredericktown.

The accident occurred when Bohnenkamp's eastbound car ran off the side of the road and struck a rock bluff.

His body was taken to Wilson Funeral Home in Fredericktown.

Two Caruthersville women and a Baldwin, Ill., man were injured in a one-car accident at 12:15 a.m. Sunday on Interstate 55 six miles south of Steele.

The accident occurred when a northbound pickup truck driven by Ronald Clifton Medcalf, 32, of Baldwin ran off the road and overturned several times.

Medcalf and two passengers, Dorothy Huen, 19, and Pretice Caples, 30, of Caruthersville, recieved minor injuries and were taken toChickasawaba Hospital at Blytheville, Ark.

Phillip E. Bailey, 15, of Clarkton received minor injuries in a two-vehicle accident at 1 p.m. Saturday on Highway 25 in Clarkton.

Bailey was taken to Dunklin County Memorial Hospital at Kennett.

A Conway, Ark., man received minor injuries at 10:45 a.m. Sunday mon Highway 67 six miles south of Fredericktown when his southbound car was struck by another car and the unidentified driver left the scene of the accident.

Michael Thomas Crimmins, 20, of Conway was injured when the driver of the second car pulled onto the shoulder of the road, then slid back onto the highway and struck the right side of the Crimmins car, which overturned several times.

Extradition expected this week

JACKSON, Miss — Gov. Bill Waller will grant the extradition Tuesday or Wednesday of Dr. Norman A. Garrison Jr. of Corinth, informed sources told The Daily Standard today.

Dr. Garrison has been sought by Dunklin County, Mo., authorities to face a first-degree murder charge in connection with the Sept. 8 slaying of his former wife, Lee Ann Garrison, in Kennet,, Mo.

Jimmy Williams, Gov. Waller's legal aide, told a Daily Standard reporter today that a court order and letter from Dunklin County Prosecuting Attorney Charles H. Baker was received by the governor's office last Wednesday.

Williams said the letter touched on two points of Waller's extradition arrangement, announced Oct. 23, in which he sought the guarantee of bond for Dr. Garrison throughout all court proceedings and the waiver of any prior contempt of court charges against the Mississippi physician until the murder proceedings are completed.

Missouri Gov. Christopher S. Bond said he was unable to enter into an agreement such as outlined by Gov. Waller and was backed up in his opinion by Missouri Attorney General John C. Danforth.

The material from Dunklin County authorities then was sent in an effort to meet enough of Waller's requests that he would return Dr. Garrsion to Missouri

"Dr. Garrison will not be able to challenge the Governor's decision, but could seek a habeas corpus open hearing in a Mississippi court," Williams noted. "They (Dr. Garrison and his attorneys) would have to appeal to Circuit Court, who could either grant a hearing or deny it."

Any hearing of this nature would be open to the public and be held in a Mississippi court.

"No statement" ... "I have no statements to make," Pros. Atty. Baker said today when contacted and asked if he knew of any new developments in the murder case and if anyone from his office or Sheriff Raymond Scott's had contacted Tennessee authorities about the alleged murder weapon.

Sheriff Scott was unavailable for comment today after five calls to his office.

John B. Farese Sr., a defense attorney for Dr. Garrison, told The Daily Standard that he had sent the Dunklin County prosecutor a request to examine the bullet taken from the deceased, but had not received a reply as of today.

The attorney had no comment on the possible extradition grant. But informed sources said the defense attorneys are not opposing it at this time and have been asking for a full-scale open hearing.

The habeas corpus hearing will deal with about the same information presented at the extradition proceedings. Missouri must prove that Dr. Garrison was in the state at the time the crime was committed.

House,store entered here

An electric guitar was stolen and a house and store were illegally entered in incidents reported over the weekend, police said today.

The guitar, valued at $200 and owned by Richard Parker of 706 Miller St., East Prairie, was taken between 9:30 and 10:15 p.m. Saturday from a car parked at Mint Club, 209 E. Center St.

Thieves took $10 in change from a barbecue shop at 208 Young St. sometime between 9:30 p.m. Saturday and 3:15 p.m. Sunday. Police said the burglar apparently got into the building by breaking the lock off the door.

Ten quarters and a portable radio - phonograph worth $30 were reportedly taken from the Dorothy Paxton home, 205 Rear Sikes Ave., between 6:45 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. last Wednesday vmn police said today. There was no sign of forced entry.

The Daily Standard learned over the weekend that private investigators have turned up some new evidence which one source claimed to be "explosive in its nature."

Fayette County, Tenn., authorities told The Daily Standard today that no one from Dunklin County had contacted them about a gun confiscated from a Missouri ex-convict from Parma, Mo., which private investigators believe could be the murder weapon.

Music items burglarized

CHARLESTON — Police are investigating a burglary and theft of an eight-tract stereo tape player and two speakers, valued at $85, and 75 county and western tapes, valued at $200. The theft occurrred sometime between Nov. 24 and Nov. 28.

The items were stolen from a house at 216 E. Marshall St. belonging to Charles Heppe, who was in the process of moving into the home. An unlocked window on the east side of the house provided access to the residence.

Murder charge filed

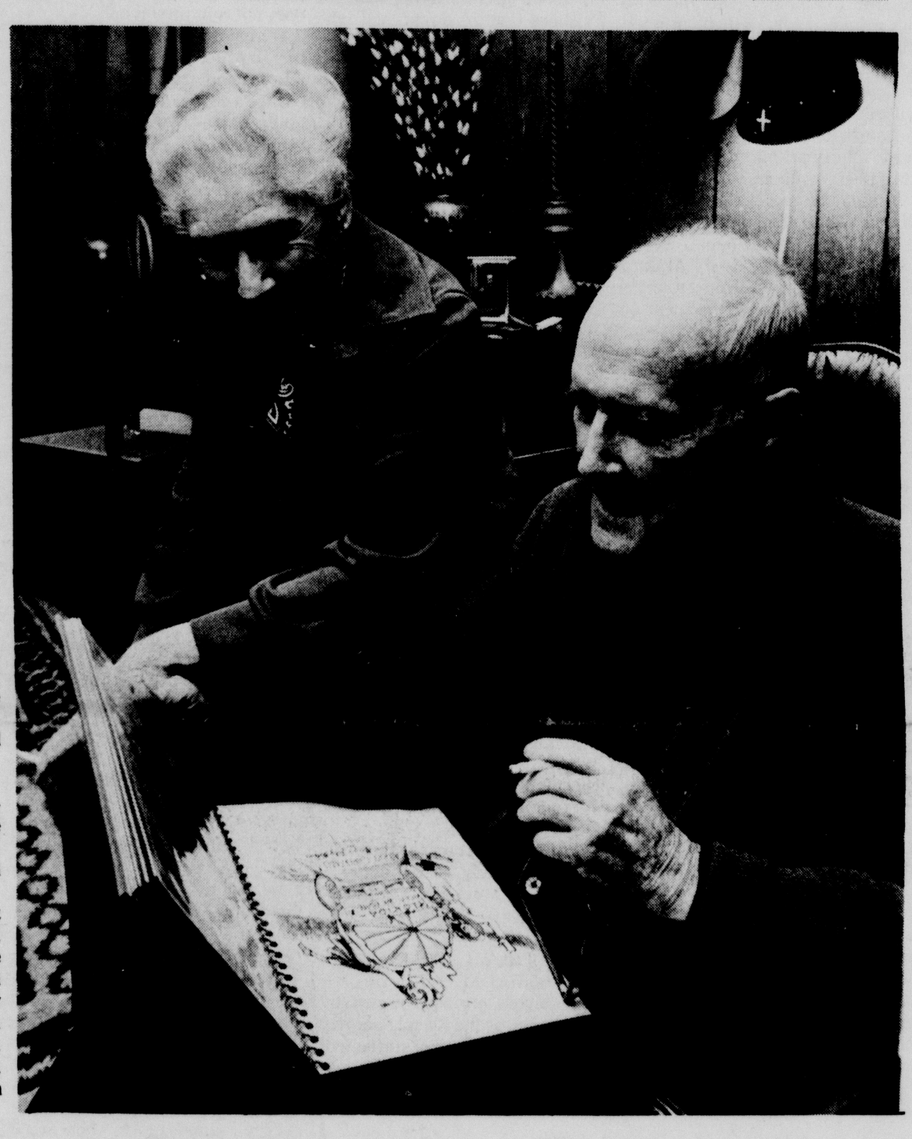
HAYWOOD CITY — A Haywood City man has been charged with first-degree murder in connection with the apparent beating death of Julia Lee Thompson, 70, of Haywood City, whose body was found in her home early Friday morning.

Sheriff John Dennis said today that Robert Blackman, 22, was taken into custody at Hamilton's Cafe in Haywood City about midnight Friday.

The woman's body was discovered by her sister and brother-in-law, Dorothy and Sam Butler, about 1:30 a.m. Friday. The Butlers live next door and became suspicious when they noticed the lights in the house were burning later than usual. The woman lived alone and usually did not stay up late.

Deputy Sheriff Vernon "Bud" Jones, who made the initial investigation, said the motive forthe murder was apprarently robbery. An empty coin purse was found open in the room.

Sheriff Dennis said today that Soloman Tyler, 21, of Haywood City was picked up at the same time as Blackman and that both have been charged with burglary and stealing in connection with a break-in at McMullin Gin Co. about six miles north of Sikeston a few weeks ago. About $250 worth of tools were stolen at the gin.



Lifetime of art and travel

Warrant issued for suspect

ORAN — A warrant was issued Saturday for the arrest of Larry Guntner, 25, of Chaffee in connection with an armed robbery at Huey's IGA Foodliner about 10:30 ap.m. Wednesday, according to Sheriff John Dennis.

Approximately $1,000 was taken in the robbery.

Dennis also reported that two persons have been charged with stealing more than $50 from Al's Tavern in Chaffee Wednesday.

James Waugh, 44, of Cape Giradeau was picked up by the sheriff's department at his home Sunday, and Terry Guntner, 29, of Chaffee turned herself in at the sheriff's department, Dennis said.

The two reportedly stole $60 in cash from the tavern while the attendant was in the back of the building.

Council to meet

The City Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the City Administrative Building.

The agenda will include a proposal to change the name of West End Park to honor the late Roberta Rowe who donated her time to summer youth programs.

Other items will include the taking of fertilizer bids for the new recreation complex and parking meter bids to replace broken meters and reviewing several beer license applications.

Watkins combines engineering, travel and art in 50-year career

By Tim Ludwig

In the half century between the day they married in Sikeston in 1923 and returned to make their home in retirement, 90 moves and many homes have given N.C. "Toby" and Mary Watkins an opportunity to live throughout much of the eastern United States, in Iceland and high in the Andes Mountains of Ecuador.

Toby and Mary Blanton met when he transferred from a rural New Madrid County school south of Sikeston to the seventh grade in town and walked in and sat down in the only seat left in the room, a front row corner desk right in front of his future wife. Toby describes himself then as a real country boy— "the only boy in the class to come to school barefoot."

Mary liked the drawings that Toby was continually sketching, and they struck up an acquaintance that resulted in marriage several years later.

Three years of living on the farm brought hard economic times, so, in 1926, he went to work for the highway department. That started the long series of moves.

In 1928, they left Missouri when Toby joined the Arkansas Highway Department. Toby's college training had been limited to agriculture, but he learned on the job and taught himself until 1931, when they moved to Louisiana where he had been named project engineer for an important highway job.

That ended early in 1932 and the Watkinses returned to Sikeston. Toby then got a job with the State Highway Department, where he stayed until 1935.

The depression was well entrenched by this time and, like many other workers, Toby Watkins obtained a job with the Department of the Interior in the National Park Service.

His engineering and drawing experience both came into use while he worked in the then national parks of Sam A. Baker, Roaring River and Quiver River in Missouri Many of the work projects were in the construction of roads and recreational facilities in the parks.

During off hours, Toby would illustrate the camp newspaper with detailed cartoon style drawings of the workers in their coveralls and outsized workshoes and often pot-bellied government supervisers.

According to Mary, Toby's drawings were used every month in the national Civilian Conservation Corps magazine published in Washington.

The Watkinses transferred to a government defense project in 1941 at Kingsport, Tenn. That project lasted through most of World War II.

In 1944, near the end of the war, Toby took on another job, building a rocket power production plant in Wisconsin. Those jobs were three shifts per day, seven days a week and 364 days per year (Christmas was the only holiday or vacation(.

As supervisor, he had to spend part of his time with nearly every shift, so Mary took on the full-time job of rearing the couple's two children, Mary Ruth and Nat Jr.

After the war, the Watkinses returned to Sikeston for a time, and Toby worked as a printer for the Sikeston Standard. That soon ended when Toby and Mary moved to Maine in 1946 to build a healthy section of the Maine Turnpike.

Ecuador was the next stop on the growing list, where Toby had been hired by an Eastern engineering firm to build a pumping station, water treatment facility and 18-mile pipeline to bring drinking water to the high Andes city of Guayaquil.

While having their papers processed by the American Embassy in Ecuador, the Watkinses were invited to meet the Counsel General. He recognized Mary's birthplace of Falls Church, Va., to be his own home town, and it turned out that they had known each other many years before.

The three years in Ecuador proved to be a high point in ways other than the mountains. While there, the Watkinses were treated to many good times on the plantations of friends and sightseeing excursions common to any tourist in a new country.

Completion of the water project in Ecuador sent Toby and Mary to Trenton, N.J., for the start of a still continuing project to build sanitation facilities and over a hundred miles of sewers. Toby stayed with that project from 1951 to 1953, then was asked to take charge of a new extension of the Maine Turnpike.

That highway construction job involved only a 67-mile stretch but included 90 bridges.

Next on the list was another job with the U.S. government. This time Toby was sent to Iceland to work on construction of a huge air base near the capital. The job did not include arrangements for sending Mary to Iceland, but the Watkinses managed to get her there and find living space on the base.

Toby again brought his drawing into play on the air base job. Part of the work there involved detailed plan drawings of fixtures and facilities to be built on the base. Because of fumbling on the job and attitudes of not really trying to get the job done by the job supervisers, Toby made derisive jokes in some of his detailed drawings and his traditional sketches.

One year later the job he held was listed as abolished, so Toby and Mary came back to the

THE CASE AGAINST ROCKEFELLER

The people have been treated to a long and involved probing by the United States Senate into the confirmation of Nelson Rockefeller as Vice President of the United States. Thus far, the Senators have been largely looking into "Rocky's" conduct as a philanthropist and an uncomplimentary book about a one-time political opponent. While these matters may be of interest to gossip columnists, they seem to us to have very little substance relative to the matter at hand; what about Rockefeller's policies and practices as a public administrator?

Barron's weekly is one of the few publications which has given any attention at all to the record of Nelson Rockefeller as Governor and chief administrative officer of the State of New York — a post which he held for some 15 years. And here is part of the record:

In the past two years, New York State has been losing population — a trend which follows on the heels of a major decline in manufacturing activity and jobs because — says Barron's — of the "hostile climate" in the State of New York. During the Rockefeller reign in power, New York State's share of the nation's manufacturing declined from 11.2 per cent to 9.2 per cent, and the state suffered a loss of over 400,000 jobs. Under Rockefeller's administration, the New York State budget also increased from $1.9 billion to nearly $9 billion. During Rocky's term in office, the rate on personal income tax more than doubled — from 7 per cent to 15 per cent. During the same period, the state gasoline levy advanced from four to eight cents per gallon, and the cigaret tax from three to fifteen cents a pack. In addition, a 4 per cent state sales tax went into effect.

Such is the record of the welfare-state policies of Nelson Rockefeller. Is this the man we want a heart-beat from the White House.

THROUGH A TEST TUBE BRIGHTLY

Career-minded women might well consider the field of chemistry. For the first time, reports Chemical & Engineering News, female graduates with a B.S. degree in chemistry or chemical engineering are receiving higher starting salaries than male graduates.

The publication predicts that women's median starting salary in 1974 will climb to 105 per cent that of men. About a decade ago, it was only 86 per cent that of men.

The report is based on responses to the American Chemical Society's annual Starting Salary Survey of new graduates.

However, years of unequal employment practices toward women and minority chemists are still reflected in statistics from society members.

For example, women and minority chemists still earn less than men with comparable experience. They had a higher unemployment rate in 1974 than the figure for all chemists. They hold fewer managerial positions. And in 1973, two-thirds of the U.S. chemistry departments offering Ph.D. degrees had no women on their faculties.

On the other hand, one newly graduated chemical engineer, a female American Indian, was swamped with 12 job offers. The average number of job offers received by B.S. graduates in chemical engineering this year was 4.6.

HOLE RECORD GOES UNDER

Here's a new world's record you won't find in your current Guiness:

According to Oil & Gas Journal, the world's deepest hole, a gas well, has been drilled in Washita County, Okla. Lone Star Producing Co.'s 1 Bertha Rogers bottomed at 31,441 feet. Lone Star also drilled what was formerly the world's deepest hole at 30,050 feet.

Cost of the record hole is reported to be around $5 million — or a little under $160 a foot.

Described as a small gasser, 1 Bertha Rogers initially tested at four million cubic feet a day in July. But since then, says the company, the well has lost pressure.

Washington is Mecca For Public Employees

As might be expected, the Nation's Capital is Mecca for government employees, says Tax foundation, Inc.

In addition to 173,000 Federal employees, the District of Columbia has some 58,000 employees of its own, about one for every 13 residents.

The District's 728 employees per 10,000 population compares with an average of 456, both state and local, per 10,000 in the rest of the nation. D. C. has unusually high concentrations of local workers in public welfare, health, sanitation, correction, police and fire protection.

Washington's municipal payroll of $57.2 million for October 1973 - up from $42.8 million a year earlier - surpasses the combined state and local government payroll outlays in each of 18 states, according to Department of Commerce figures.

UP TO THE PUBLIC

A short time ago, an official of a large oil company said the ultimate boundaries of the domestic petroleum industry - the extent to which it can help meet the challenge of rising energy demands - are four in number. "The first," he stated, "is the one imposed by nature: the amount of oil and gas remaining to be discovered. The second boundary is technological. It involves the entire range of tools and procedures -- and the ideas and concepts -- essential to finding and producing new reserves under increasingly difficult conditions. The third is economic. . . the necessary investments of money and manpower. . . The fourth boundary -- and one of growing importance -- is public opinion. Whether our industry can measure up to its full potential will depend, in large part, upon public attitudes and the manner in which these attitudes are translated into governmental policies."

The oil company official -- a geologist by training -- believes that within these boundaries, the U.S. domestic petroleum industry can provide the nation's consumer with adequate petroleum energy at a reasonable balance between cost, dependability and protection of the environment. Studies leave little doubt "that there is still a great deal of oil to be found in this country." The most serious obstacles to adquacy of future petroleum supplies lie in the areas of economics and public concern. He referred, as have other oil industry representatives, to the need for increased incentives.

Finally, the oil official made it clear that, "In the absence of public understanding about the essential need for energy, in the midst of confusion about our operations, in a climate charged with environmental fears, the most carefully planned of our efforts to resolve the energy crisis" can prove unsuccessful.

Odds favor AEC 3,000,000 to 1

If you live near a nuclear power plant, the chances of being killed by a reactor accident are one in 300 million.

That compares with odds of one in two million of being hit by lighning and one in 4,000 of being involved in an automobile accident.

"The fact is that nuclear accident probabilities are so low that they are insignificant compared to the over-all risks due to other man-made and natural risks," according to the recently released draft report of a study commissioned by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The two-year, $3-million study is the most comprehensive ever made of nuclear power plant safety, says the AEC.

There are now about 50 commercial nuclear power plants in operation. There have been no accidents. About 100 reactors are expected to be working by 1980. On this basis, the study estimates the probability of a nuclear core melting and releasing radioactive materials as once every 175 years. But only one out of 10 potential core-melt accidents would have measurable health effects, and that would occur on the average of once every 17 centuries.

Such has been the extraordinary safety record of the nuclear industry that the two insurance pools which provide liability insurance for every utility-operated nuclear power reactor and all privately-operated research and development reactors in the United States have just made premium refunds of nearly $1.5 million.

Under the rating system used by the pools - the Nuclear Energy Liability Insurance Assn. (NELIA) and Mutual Atomic Energy Liability Underwriters (MAELU) -- about 70 per cent of the premiums received from insureds is placed in a loss reserve fund. If these funds are not utilized to pay losses, they are returned to the insureds after a period of 10 years.

In the last eight years, NELIA and MAELU have made premium refunds of more than $6.5 million.

According to spokesmen for the pools, the latest refund is "an expression of confidence in the safety of nuclear installations."

Since the beginning of their operation in 1957, neither pool has ever received a claim arising from the operation of a nuclear reactor. This safety record, they note, is without parallel in other industries.

TIRED OF IT

It's about this time of year when I begin to get tax statements from the city and county that I start thinking of income tax paying time and I begin to wonder where all the money will come from to pay my taxes.

Of course, being on a salary, most of the income tax has been claimed and deducted. It's in filing out the forms that I realize they took such a large chunk of money. While I'm in this mood someone comes along and looks over the $304 billion federal budget and tells me how they have spent my hard earned dollars.

The month I was ten days late with the house payment was probably the time my income tax money was part of the $6,000 Congress voted to spend to study the bisexual behavior of Polish frogs. When I was trying to get enough together to pay for my son's books in college they voted to spend $375,000 to determine if Frisbees might be used to carry flares.

It must have been the week the garbage collectors were on strike that Congress spent the $70,000 to conduct research on the smell of perspiration for Australian aborigines.

There's $121,000 in the budget to find out why so many Americans say "ain't". And there's another $203,979 to establlish travelers' aid centers for migrants who get lost on the Los Angeles freeways.

Then we have the $46,000 for compiling a dictionary on witchcraft; $5,000 to study American and Indian whistling ducks. A study of the habits of wild boars in Pakistan will cost $35,000. The $85,000 to assess the impact of rural road construction in Poland isn't a Polish joke — it's in the budget.

I don't know of anything the Congress has done the past few years that doesn't cost money. Now they want to up the income tax to fight inflation. The idea is that the government can spend my money better than I can. One thing is for certain — they sure can spend it faster. I don't know who contributes more to inflation — me, trying to pay the grocery bill or Congress playing with the Frisbees they're buying with my money. Hopefully, my Congressman understands the system. It's a cinch I don't.

One of the candidates campaigning for votes said we have to pay some folks more money for working less and pay the folks who won't work at all more than they could make working. He thought I was crazy when I suggested we take all those who won't work and put them in the experiment on the Los Angeles freeway and when they get lost, just leave 'em. If they want to smell sweat up there in Washington, they ought to come over to my house around the first of the month when I'm trying to pay the bills. It'll beat anything they can find down there in Australia.

I'd like for someone up there in Congress to tell me of one bill they have passed in the past five years to save me some money. Any kind of fool can spend money and the Congress is in a class all by itself. Every other bill Congress passes increases their own salaries or adds a few thousand more for them to spend running their offices.

There's some kind of aid program for everything and everyone except me — the poor slob paying the bill.

You wanna know something I'm getting kinda tired of it, too.— Bill Bray, Manager, Missouri Press Assn.

TRUTH ABOUT SOCIAL SECURITY

The recent ominous report by the trustees of the Social Security System on its financial status will hopefully force the Congress and the American people to take a more critical look at this program.

For years, the American public has been led to believe that Social Security is a fiscally sound "contributory" system of "insurance" for old age but, hopefully, this will change now. And surely when the commissioner of Social Security admits that the financing of the system must be changed significantly in coming years in order to avoid bankruptcy, the time has come for serious reappraisal and revision of its flaws.

We have spoken out before about the "semantic dishonesty" which has been used to sell the Social Security program to the publilc. It is high time that a number of myths about Social Security are set to rest. regardless of what we have been led to believe:

1--Social Security is not an annuity program. Retirement benefits are not necessarily related to contributions made. For example, a family in which the husband and wife worked usually receives the same benefits as a family in which the wife did not work, despite the fact that the working wife also paid Social Security taxes.

--Social Security payments are not "contributions;" they are compulsory "taxes."

--Although Social Security is based upon a moral commitment between generations, there is no legal guarantee that benefits will be paid to future generations, particularly if the "trust fund" does not remain solvent.

We have pointed out before that the burden of Social Security taxes upon the American wage earner and his family is becoming intolerable. More than half of all families now pay more in Social Security taxes than in Federal personal income taxes.

If the trend toward "zero population growth" continues and if inflation remains unchecked (thus automatically triggering increases in Social Security benefits , it becomes obvious that a proportionately smaller work force will be called upon to finance greater and greater benefits for an increasing number of retirees.

No pious platitudes about the system's "fiscal integrity" or sermons about how well it has worked in the past can change the fact that the demands on the system in 1975, 1985, 1995 and beyond are going to be greater and different than they were when Social Security began nearly 40 years ago.

One of the major changes that should be made (despite the opposition of some segments of organized labor) is the earnings limitation test as means of forcing and keeping older workers out of the labor force. This would relieve the immediate squeeze of inflation on many people trying to live on Social Security benefits only.

CURBING AMERICANS

Apparently the only thing that opinion-molders can think of to do in fighting inflation and shortages is to curb good citizens instead of curbing the inflation and the shortages. This is because they can only think of political solutions to economic problems. And the only political solution to an economic problem is for the politicians and bureaucrats to get out of the way.

Americans are not accustomed to shortages, at least in peacetime. This is because we still enjoy the vestiges of the free market, profit-motive system which made this small area and this small population produce almost as much as all the rest of the world combined.

The free market solves shortages in the only two ways possible: by increasing production and by increasing the hope of reward for producing the "right" goods and services. In the free market, or relatively free market, the customers decide what are the "right" goods and services. A tiny rise in price is sufficient signal to wise producers that the public wants more of some item or service. The wise producer sets about to fill that public demand.

That is the way economic problems are solved. Throwing laws or tax dollars at economic problems solves nothing. Laws only curb producers and taxes take away money needed to finance production of needed items. Let's stop curbing good citizens and start curbing the people-controllers who are ruining the greatest Republic ever built by the mind and hand of man. H.L.H.

WASHINGTON - There was an era, not too long ago, when our cities "were for burning." In one year, 1967, huge fires lit bloodied streets, 85 persons died in riots, 3,200 people were badly injured as violence swept over the slithery gutters -- and property damage ran to $100 million.

And not long afterwards, the nation's campuses erupted. Flames. Explosions. Rioting. Seizures of university buildings and mauling of of faculties. In the first eight months of 1969 -- damage ran to $9 million on college grounds alone. There were deaths and severe injuries.

Thus, to rush to the need of the times -- and remember that in one year revolutionaries killed 13 police -- the FBI updated and expanded its Counterintelligence Program now known as "Cointelpro" The FBI delved into hate groups, terrorists, revolutionists, white and black. And into the subculture conspirators some now underground and some still violence prone, operating openly.

Now thanks to the incaution of Attorney General Saxbe the impression extant is that the FBI went in for dirty tricks. This is an overreaction to the shoddiness of Watergateism.

Before anyone rushes in where Saxbe doesn't fear to tread, one should examine again the nature of internal and international terrorism, radical dissidents (justifying "people's" court executions of judges here and abroad, for example) and avowed revolutionism.

Look, for example, at what the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) has been doing with its new security regulations. This must be distinguished from the weapons side of the commission.

There now are some 600 private industrial and educational AEC licensees. Of these almost 100 have enough SNM (special nuclear material to warrant special protective regulations. For SNM has been in their corporate and institutional possession, and has been shipped in sufficient quantity to be stolen easily and an atomic bomb constructed juast as easily.

Further, the AEC foresees the spreading use of plutonium into the fuel cycle in ever greater quantities. Today, I'm told, there is one, perhaps two plants which use this material. Mostly used is uranium. But this nation is in the throes of Project Independence. Today there are some 53 or 54 atomic power plants. In less than a decade there will be between 200 and 240 such energy depots.

So the problem of shipping plutonium and other SNM quantities safely -- not only from the viewpoint of radiation but from the need of security from robbery -- has bec intense The AEC is anticipating steadi SNM movments in ever increasing amounts an distances.

Its security people, now head by Maj. Gen. Frederic Davison new Director of the AEC Divisio of Safeguards and Security contemplated uneasily the recen terrorist seizure of the Britis aircraft by what even the Palestine Liberation Organization considers "crazies."

And they have asked themselves -- what if sufficient SNM were stolen in any fashion from within, or without a plant, during shipment or storage to make a bomb? And some terrorists, revolutionaries by any name, or blackmailers hold, not a plane but a city as hostage?

At least one governmental group says that terrorists abroa have Soviet-built "Strellas," a 32 pound missile which can be launched from a big man shoulder. They say they believe such missiles have been used t bring down aircraft. I can't prov this. But I can vouch for the fact i was told to me on high authority

What if this Strella is fitted wit a small do-it-yourself atomic bomb?

There is reason to believe terrorists have given much thought to all this and the politica ransom such an operation coul extort.

Certainly the AEC's new regulations now call for specially protected convoys of plutonium shipments. Special armed carriers. Specially designed trailers. Cars protecting the SNM carrier. Armed guards to escor all air and sea SNM shipments And only on U.S. registered carriers. Rail shipments ac companied by five armed guards Etc.

But it is much more conforting to know that Clarence Kelley's FBI men are infiltrating terrorists and revolutionary groups, keeping them under surveillance and perhaps bugging them in more ways than one. And also, could be, using some form of Cointelpro.

There is an FBI-AEC liaison system. The bureau could report swiftly any terrorist decision to target an SNM shipment, or a power plant or atomic "warehouses." Who wants a city or a skyscraper held for ransom A captive aircraft on an isolated runway is enough.

So there's a need for FBI counteraction. Today's Marxists aren't (repeat, aren't) Norman Thomas-type Socialists with a volume of "Das Kapital" in one hand and a girl in the other. And, says a high FBI spokesman, "We welcome constant oversight (inspection) to prevent any abuse of the authority given us."

Let's have some realism. These are explosive times.

Spies Who Came In From The Cold

WASHINGTON - Somewhere in the Western world at this moment reside two men whose routine lives disguise their shadowy pasts in the netherworld of espionage. One is probably a journalist, the other a lawyer.

They are spies who came in from the cold. Their tale is one of double lives, torture and a spectacular jailbreak engineered by the CIA. In the interest of their personal safety, we have decided not to identify them by name.

In 1969, the two men -- one a Scotsman, the other an Englishman -- were leading what appeared to be normal lives in the white supremacist nation of Rhodesia. One was an editor for the Rhodesia Herald in Salisbury, the second an attorney in private practice.

At the time, the government of Prime Minister Ian Smith had been declared an outlaw by the United Nations and the rest of the world was ostensibly refusing to trade with them. In truth, businessmen from several nations were secretly violating the economic blockage against Rhodesia.

The journalist and the lawyer were recruited by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency to pass on information about the embargo breakers. As they pursued their professions, they also gathered documents and data, and dropped it off in mail boxes at a post office in the suburbs of Salisbury.

The journalist's information, according to our sources, made its way to a man named Paul O'Neill, the U.S. consul general in Salisbury at the time. The lawyer's papers eventually wound up on the desk of a U.S. consular officer in South Africa named I. L. Smith.

Smith, say our CIA sources, was an agency case officer. We have secured the diplomatic lists, but the mysterious Mr. Smith has apparently dropped out of sight.

Eventually, the Rhodesian police began to notice the strange comings and goings of the two secret agents. The "spooks" were followed and photographed, their documents intercepted. They were arrested.

While imprisoned, according to our CIA sources, the journalist and the lawyer were mercilessly beaten and tortured, and the details of their clandestine lives were slowly drawn from them.

They were tried behind closed doors and convicted of violating Rhodesia's Official Secrets Act and other regulations. On Dec. 12, 1969, the journalist was sentenced to 18 months at hard labor. The attorney drew four years on the rock pile.

The United States, meanwhile, was seriously considering the withdrawal of its consulate in Salisbury. Prime Minister Smith, in desperate need of official recognition, wanted the United States to stay. With this bargaining chip, Washington managed to negotiate the release of one spy, who was delivered to the airport while allegedly en route to prison.

The Rhodesians, however, stubbornly refused to give up the other. The CIA, say our sources, freed him by staging a daring jailbreak, then whisked him off to a new life in another land.

Footnote: The CIA refused to comment on our story. Paul O'Neill, now the State Department's "country director" for South Africa, was travelling in Africa when we called and could not be reached.

SCIENTIFIC DRUNKS: Alcoholics desperately seeking treatments have been used as guinea pigs for government-funded experiments in which doctors dose them with more booze in the name of science.

The hospitals used for the experiments are frequently advertised as "treatment" centers. Yet, our investigation shows that once inside, the vulnerable and distressed alcoholic may be asked whether we wants to "volunteer" for an experimental program in which he will get still more liquor.

Susceptible to any suggestion, many agree and some are even paid to go back to tippling. Then they are given varying quantities of alcohol to see how it affects them. In the end, they may be dried out and treated without alcohol.

We have found programs being carried out by doctors from such famed institutions as the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, Brooklyn's Downstate Medical Center and New York's Payne Whitney Clinic. Similar experiments have been conducted at Veterans's Administrations facilities and other hospitals.

Alcoholic patients seeking help were paid as "volunteers" and given controlled amounts of alcohol for four to six days.

Dr. Gross and others ably defend both the history and necessity of such experiments. Gross feels the participants are helped in the long run because "it gives themn a sense of worth which often helps with their future recovery."

But many doctors feel that any additional alcohol is damaging to an alcoholic, particularly to his liver. The consensus is that the only way for a true alcoholic to stop drinking is to "leave the stuff alone" completely.

Some doctors also question the ethics of human guinea pig techniques and recommend instead use of baboons or other manlike animals. But this runs afoul of animal lovers who are outraged when baboons, which are sober by nature, are turned into lushes.

Sociable Insect

Unlike many of its cousins who live solitary lives, the Vespula pensylvanica (wasp), is a social insect that thrives in colonies. It is one of the paper-building family of wasps and hornets who build communal nests from chewed wood pulp mixed with saliva.

Housing units almost ready

Ten single- bedroom public housing units designed for the elderly, located at the corner of First and Huffman streets in Portageville, are near completion. The building at the right contains four units, and the rear building has six. In the left foreground is a covered pavilion. Grading and landscaping of the grounds and some interior painting and cleanup work are expected to be finished within the next two weeks.

Shrubbery is planted

Shrubbery and trees are being planted at 25 new public housing family units in Portageville currently in the final stages of construction. The modern, brick, all-electric units are on an adjoining site south of Portage Village, a 50-unit public housing development that opened in 1970.

Public housing near completion

PORTAGEVILLE — Construction is neary complete on 35 new public housing units scheduled to be ready for occupancy by Jan. 1.

Work is expected to be completed by Dec. 15 at both the family and senior citizen unit sites, according to Q. T. Quertermous, construction foreman for Ralph Boyer Construction Co. of Sikeston, contractor for the $794,873 turnkey project funded by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

A 25-family housing complex, consisting of 20 two-bedroom units and five three-bedroom units, adjoins Portage Village, a 50- unit public housing development on Huffman Road which opened in 1970.

Ten single-bedroom units designed for the elderly are located on a tract at the corner of First and Huffman streets.

Mrs. Ellen Milem, public housing site manager, said there isn't much doubt that the units will be fully occupied because there is a waiting list of 200 prospective renters.

Rental applications are being processed, and Mrs. Milem suggested that if any applications already on file need to be revised or updated, this should be done by the applicants since the units will be rented to those who first applied.

Rental fees will vary, she explained, based on the family income and the number of persons in the family.

Construction started in April and has proceeded at a steady pace, despite a setback when a fire on Aug. 3 — attributed to — arson leveled six of the senior citizen units and damaged the other four.

Formidable Army

Following chemical trails blazed by scouts, army ant soldiers in Panama go forth in large battalions after prey as formidable as small lizards. Nomadic creatures, army ants bivouac in hollow trees where they clutch each other to form a protective mass around the queen and her brood.

Cuba is known as the "Pearl of the Antilles" because it is the largest and richest of all the West Indian islands.

Microwave ovens intensify flavors

COLUMBIA — To find out if the Russians were right about more "intense" food flavors coming from microwave cooking and to learn more about the nutrient value of these fast-cooked foods, University of Missouri food scientists have been awarded a $35,000 research grant by the National Institute of Health.

Dr. Ruth E. Baldwin and Mrs. Bernice M. Korschgen will compare conventionally cooked foods with those foods cooked via microwave.

"We'll look at the differences in nitrogen-containing compounds that might relate to flavor," said Dr. Baldwin.

"Russian researchers say microwave cooked food has a more intense meat flavor because of creatine, a nonprotein nitrogen compound. We'll want to check this and other nitrogen compounds to see if there is any interaction that affects flavor."

Dr. Baldwin recently fed creatine to 52 people and asked them for a reaction. Sixty- five per cent said it was bitter; the rest had mixed reactions ("sour," "sweet," "salty," etc.).

"We'll have to run more tests to find out just what effect this compound has on flavor," said Dr. Baldwin.

She noted that microwave is the fastest cooking method known – two to five times faster than conventional cooking. And its popularity has been increasing rapidly.

In 1970, there were 60,000 microwave ovens in the U.S. By 1973, the number had jumped to 375,000. Some forecasters expect over five million ovens in the United States by 1977 -- or about eight per cent of the total market. But Dr. Baldwin thinks the estimate is conservative.

"I expect that at least one- fourth of all the cooking in the United States will be by microwave units by 1976," she said. "These ovens are becoming competitively priced, and they can save up to 50 to 75 per cent of the energy used by conventional ovens."

Christmas stocking stuffers

Looking for small gifts for stocking stuffers? Here are some ideas to start your thinking.

For the baby — a rattle, a cloth book, perhaps a pull toy if he's toddling, a pretty shirt that he can wear for "company."

For little brother — coloring books and non-toxic crayons or felt tip pens, new accessories for his train set, a license plate for his bicycle with his name spelled out.

For big brother — a magnetized change holder for the dashboard of his car, some "way-out" aftershave, or a T-shirt sporting a funny slogan.

Model plane and ship builders will thank you for sandpaper, turpentine, glue, paint brushes, threaders, clamps, rubber bands and clips.

Would-be writers will appreciate a typewriter ribbon, a ream of paper, a box of carbon paper.

Grain market

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures were strong in early dealings on the Chicago Board of Trade today, but grain prices were mixed.

On the opening, soybeans were ½ to 7 cents a bushel higher, January 7.87; Chicago wheat was 4½ lower to 1 higher, December 4.86; corn was unchanged to 3 higher, December 3.65 and oats were unchanged to 1½ lower.

Malden Christmas home tour slated

MALDEN— The Business and Professional Women's Club will sponsor a tour of four homes Sunday from 2 to 5 pm.

The library and museum will be open for punch and cookies during these hours.

The homes on the tour will be: Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Berry, Kent Boulevard; Mrs. Ray King, J. Highway; Mrs. Juanita Dunscomb, 608 N. Marion; and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Perkins, 300 Elm St.

Meetings

TUESDAY

Chapter HB of P.E.O. will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Marcia Sikes, 507 N. Kingshighway. Jane Urban will be co-hostess.

Vitamin pills supply only known nutrients

By L.M. HURSH
National Dairy Council Consultant

It's surprising how some of the same questions keep popping up when people ask about nutrition. Probably it's because there are certain basics about which people would like to be well informed. And often our understanding can be confused by the wealth of misinnformation that is available almost daily.

So here are some questions I'm most asked:

Q. If I take a vitamin and mineral capsule daily, can't I eat whatever I want and come out all right?

A. This lacks sense because you could still eat too little protein, or get too much fat or carbohydrate- or not enough fat, or whatever. Vitamins and minerals, in other words, simply do not by themselves balance your diet.

There may also be vitamins and minerals in food that we have not yet discovered. Pills can only give you what we know about, whereas food will give you not only what we know is in it, but nature's secrets as well.

Q. Is a calorie a nutrient?

A. Not in the usual sense. I know we all talk about getting enough calories at the same time that we talk about getting, say enough protein. But a calorie is a unit of energy, no more. Vitamins and minerals by themselves do not give you calories. Calories come only from protein, fat and carbohydrates, and the calories you get from these sources are merely a measure of the fuel-giving contribution of those nutrients.

Q. But don't we store calories in our bodies?

A. Only in the sense that your body is itself made of protein, fat, carbohydrate, water and other nutrients. So, to the extent that your body possesses protein, fat and carbohydrate- and especially if you are overweight

COCKFIGHTER
by Charles Willeford
A Movie Tie-in Book
Fiction

COCKFIGHTER has been made into a motion picture starring Warren Oates as the man who is obsessed with cockfighting It will be distributed nationally this fall.

Here is the full portrait of the world of the cockfighter -- the competitiveness, risk-taking, and brutality that surround him in the pit. COCKFIGHTER brilliantly portrays a dedicated professional cockfighter whose destiny rises and falls on the crest of an ever-beckoning triumph and who single-mindedly persues it, to the exclusion of all else -- including the girl who loves him but hates his sport, and the beautiful widow who tempts and attracts him.

"A superb piece of writing ... original and powerful." Seattle Times

"Cockfighter is a finely executed human novel, concerned with man's struggle through victory and defeat" Chicago News

THE AMAZING WORLD OF KRESKIN
by Kreskin
19035 - $1.50
Non-fiction

In a seance-like setting, 20 members of the audience sit around five tables in groups of four. Kreskin -- through the brainpowers of the 20 people -- makes the five tables tremble, rise off the floor, and turn over.

In THE AMAZING WORLD OF KRESKIN, Kreskin tells graphically how he perceives a thought; how it arrives, telepathically, in his mind. He contends that most people are prone to suggestibility, that he has the "Power of suggestion." And, he drops some information on how to tilt tables, achieve automatic writing -- even a handy way to beat the blackjacks at Vegas!

Along with relating his developments as a "mentalist", Kreskin takes a sharp but humorous knife to deal with mystic arts and the occult.

Kreskin is the star of his own syndicated television show, as well as a frequent guest on all the major network television shows. He lectures extensively.

As emperor, Haile Selassie of Ethiopia occupied the world's oldest throne and headed a dynasty that traced its origins to the Queen of Sheba and King Solomon.

Ann Landers

Young child falls into toilet bowl

Dear Ann Landers: I don't know how you can reword this to make it fit to print but I'm counting on you. I just can't say it any other way. I'll bet many women had this problem and I'd like to tell them how I solved it.

When Mr. Absent-Minded used the toilet, he could never remember to put the seat down. Frequently our five-year-old would get up in the middle of the night to use the bathroom and the poor kid always fell in. She would then come into our room (looking like a drowned rat), awaken me from a sound sleep, and I'd have to change her into dry pajamas.

Finally I bought some contact paper and cut out letters that spelled the following message: "IT'S NICE TO HAVE A MAN AROUND THE HOUSE." I glued the slogan to the bottom of the seat. Now my husband puts the seat down every time.--Victorious

Ear Vic: Thanks for sharing your "solution." I have an alternative. A five-year old girl is old enough to learn how to check a toilet seat before she sits down and falls in..

Dear Ann: You printed a letter from a mother who was broken-hearted because she had done everything for her children but "they went wrong." She sounds like MY mother. After all, I wear those "terrible britches" when decent women wear skirts. I was a change-of-life baby and I guess when my mother was young most decent women DID wear dresses. But styles change.

She deplores the fact that, at 23, I share an apartment with two girls. Girls who didn't live at home until they married (in her day) were considered "loose."

What galls mother most is that I am not married. "You date lots of nice boys (not men, mind you, BOYS), so why don't you marry one?" The fact that I'm not in love doesn't matter. I should get married anyway.

If a night goes by and I don't call her, she calls ME --to make sure I'm sleeping home.

Mother doesn't realize that my life can't be a carbon copy of hers. And because of this it's gotten so I don't want to see or talk to her. Any Advice?--Flip Side Of The Coin

Dear Flip: Start by reducing the phone calls to every other night. Tell her "Don't call me, I'll call you." And be firm about it.

Listen politely to her views, then do as you please. A woman of 23 is old enough to run her own life.

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is my boss. I'm attracted to him mentally and physically and it's getting more difficult to conceal my feelings every day. Mr. T.D. & H (Tall, Dark and Handsome) is divorced and sought after by many women. (A secretary knows these things.) He is semi-rich and several years my senior.

How should I let him know I care? Or would I be making a fool of myself? I'm not sure he'd be responsive. Yet I'd hate to miss out on this great catch by being too shy. Maybe he's crazy about me and afraid to show it.

Please give me some advice on what to do--and how. When I'm in a room with this man for more than fifteen minutes my eyeglasses get steamed up. Sign me--The Shrinking Violet

Dear Vi: If T.D.&H. were interested in you, you'd know it. His glasses would steam up. My advice is get another job.

Are drugs O.K. if you learn how to control them? Can they be of help? The answers are in Ann Lander's new booklet, "Straight Dope on Drugs." For each booklet ordered, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (20 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Day care mothers meet

Substitute mothers discuss proper day child care

The women meet each month in one of the day-care homes, along with Mrs. Deanna Long, the day care licensing worker from the Scott county welfare office.

They discuss together their problems and how to cope with situations that arise in tending young children. They also show films and have guest speakers.

The term day care refers to an arrangement in which a child spends a portion of his day away from home.

Proper day care provides warmth and concern and is geared to taking care of each child's needs. For instance, he should be served a hot, balanced meal, along with morning and afternoon snacks and have a nap or quiet time and organized play. The latter may consist of arts and crafts, painting, cutting and water experiences, dancing and other forms of activity.

In summer time, supervised outdoor play and learning experiences with children of the same age level are important.

Homes visited by the licensed day care worker must meet certain qualifications, such as a certain amount of space for each child if the family agrees to share the home. A fire inspection is made, medical information regarding the applicant and her family is obtained and regular supervisory visits are made by the licensing personnel.

At the meeting Tuesday night, Mrs. Long circulated a folder containing many helpful booklets on such things as toy safety, food and money, rescue breathing techniques to save a life, child safety and first aid for the family.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

It's been several months since President Ford prescribed that Americans "bite the bullet" in an effort to stop inflation.

Naturally, we've tried to instill in our children the sense of urgency regarding the nation's economy, but we get the same light-hearted, devil-may-care flippancy, "Nonsense. There's still the wrought iron fence."

Let me explain about the wrought iron fence. It is sixty feet long, five feet high, encompasses our back yard, and is held together by rust.

Several years ago when one of the boys was desperate for money for a new tennis racket we said to him, "Paint the wrought iron fence."

He looked at us like we had just suggested he eject himself over the Snake River on a tricycle.

"Do you know how long that would take?"

"Making allowances for phone calls, changing your radio dial, entertaining visitors, and cleaning up after you, conservatively speaking, about eight years," I said.

"I'll work until I've painted enough for a new racket," he said.

During the years to follow, the wrought iron fence has become a symbol for their entire economy. They have grown up with that fence. When they were younger and needed money to replace a science textbook they had lost, they headed for the fence. If they wanted a new record album, concert tickets, money for a movie, they slapped a few more drops of paint on the fence.

In more recent years the fence has grown in stature. It is not unusual to see one of them out there for as long as a day and a half working for a stereo component. One night I saw one of them working by moonlight for money for this insurance premium for his car.

The wrought iron fence is a monument to the capitalistic system and serves as a constant reminder that he who paints, prospers...and he who dawdles stays home Saturday night.

Yesterday, one of my sons came into the kitchen, his face ashen as he clutched a coffee can full of black paint and a brush. "The fence!" he shouted,

"IT'S FINISHED! SOMEONE FINISHED THE FENCE!"

We all sat there numbly for a moment while the impact of his words penetrated. "What'll we do now?" he asked sullenly.

"Bite the bullet," I said.

My other son looked up. "Couldn't we paint it first?"

State hosts Republican Governors

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The nation's Republican governors were warned by one of the most successful GOP state chairmen today that "we got clobbered" in last months' elections and that "the road back is a hard one" that will take many years.

Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan issued a statement declaring unless the Republicans adopt the strategy of reaching out to new voters, "the party we represent will itself be dead."

The warnings by Milliken and William McLaughlin, his state's GOP chairman, came as Republican governors launched their post-election conference here with speeches and a panel discussion on the state of the party and its future.

Speakers included Republican National Chairmen Mary Louise Smith, host Gov. Christopher S. Bond of Missouri, governor-elect Robert Bennett of Kansas, pollster Louis Harris and Gov. Winfield Dunn of Tennessee, outgoing chairman of the Republican Governors Association.

The meeting is the first since the already dimished ranks of GOP governors dwindled even further last month. Republicans will control only 13 of 50 state governorships next year, compared with 18 before the election and 32 just five years ago.

McLaughlin declared, "We must acknowledge that we are a minority party," adding that "for too many years we have deluded ourselves into the false security that electing a President will make the Republican party the majority party nationally.

"When we have elected a President and more than half of the members of the Senate and the House and better than 50 per cent of the governors and the state legislators, and when more than 20 or 21 per cent of the people identified with us, then and only then can we begin to consider majority status," he said.

McLaughlin told the governors they are "an indispensable ingredient in any recipe" for rebuilding the GOP, saying Republicans must take the lead in fighting for "open government and open campaigns" as Milliken did to win reelection in Michigan.

The Michigan chairman said the GOP must reshape its image and broaden its appeal by actions that show women, young people and minorities "that the GOP is their home."

His views on the need for a broadened GOP base echoed those expressed by a number of governors in statements and interviews as they gathered in this snowy Mississippi River city.

Iowa Gov. Robert G. Ray declared, "We must open up and encourage participation in this party by people of various ages, ethnic backgrounds and diverse views." Massachussetts Gov. Francis W. Sargent said the GOP has been "an exclusive club for too long."

Milliken, who will be one of just two Republican governors in the nation's 10 largest states, told a reporter at Sunday night's reception at the Gateway Arch that "the party has a great future" but we're going to have broaden our base."

Later Sunday night, he issued a statement declaring that any strategy rejecting that view "is not only morally wrong but also politically stupid."

Milliken also declared that the sooner Republicans accept the scope of their Nov. 5 defeat, "put it behind us and move aggressively toward reconstruction, the healthier it will be for the party as a whole and the nation as a whole."

Earlier Sunday, Dunn told reporters that President Ford should look "very carefully" at an increase in the gasoline tax in order to reduce U.S reliance on Middle Eastern oil.

He said the federal government will have to compel the American public "to be without a certain amount of fuel" but said any increase in the gas tax should be accompanied by rebates to those who have low incomes or use their cars for work.

Dunn conceded that politically "it would be extremely tough" but added, "A President has got to be willing in these days to make the hard decisions and to worry about his popularity as a secondary factor."

Dunn's comments received little support from other early arrivals.

"I don't think a tax on gasoline is a viable proposal," said Bond. Milliken said he felt it would further hurt the automobile industry, while Bennett said he feared it would hurt the poor.

What's the law?

By: JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

Mario was a professional singer who owed his fortune to his rich voice. Consequently, if he could have kept it in a safe-deposit box without inconveniencing himself, that's exactly where he would have kept it.

Not feasible, however, so he did the next best thing. He all but lived in the office of his throat-specialist doctor who kept his voice in tip-top condition. And he deducted the cost of the doctor's treatments from his income taxes as a business expense.

"You can't do that," protested an Internal Revenue agent. "Doctor's fees aren't a business expense."

"They sure are in my case," was Mario's answer. "If I was a professional saxophone player, the cost of keeping my sax in shape would be deductible as a business expense. Since my voice is my instrument, the cost of keeping it in shape is similarly deductible."

The dispute ended up in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit Mario to deduct his medical bills as a business expense?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that, under the tax law, money expended for diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body, are medical expenses. Thus, concluded the judge, while Mario may deduct the cost of his throat treatments as a medical expense, he may not deduct them as a business expense.

(Based upon a 1971 Internal Revenue Service Decision.)

Highlights and sidelights

Session may be long

JEFFERSON CITY – Some legislators are dismally predicting the current special session of the General Assembly may run until Christmas and, perhaps, past it.

The Senate's failure to approve a usury bill on its first attempt and Gov. Christopher S. Bond's belated introduction of a new age of majority law into the session's agenda are seen as the primary reasons for a longer than expected session.

Only one bill had been passed by either house when the special session recessed for the Thanksgiving holiday last week. That was an $18.2 million appropriations bill which was approved by the House on Nov. 25.

The usury bill, a Senate Banking Committee substitute, was defeated by a 16-9 vote on the Senate floor.

In its original form, the Senate's usury bill agreed with Gov. Bond on the amount of increase in the interest rate limit (from eight to 10 per cent) and on elimination of all but two points. Points are fees charged by lenders to cover expenses of making loans and, generally, are equal to 1 per cent of the loan. But the committee substitute bill dropped all mention of points and added sections which would have allnnlowed credit unions and small loan companies to charge higher rates of interest.

A majority of the Senate, urged on by Sen. Earl Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, rejected sections on credit unions and small loan companies.

Blackwell also was able to get an amendment limiting the number of points which lenders can charge on a loan to only two and putting a penalty clause for violation of the act back into the bill.

Senate Banking Committee chairman A. M. Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, said another bill will be brought out to the Senate to replace the defeated substitute bill. But Blackwell made it clear during Senate debate he thinks the defeated substitute bill, as amended, is the best the legislature will come up with.

And other Senators have expressed their disfavor with any increase of the interest rates. An increase, Sen. Maurice Schechter, D-Creve Coeur, said, would be "pouring gasoline on the raging fires of inflation."

House Speaker Richard J. Rabbitt, D-St. Louis, said sentiment exists in the House for a limit on points, but House opinion is divided on consumer protection and other elements of the bill.

Bond's proposals for consumer protection are to require reports from loan companies and other financial institutions and give the Division of Finance further authority to regulate the money markets.

Spradling has expressed his dislike for Bond's consumer protection suggestions, and they were not in the substitute bill which Spradling's banking committee approved.

Some compromises will eventually occur, but since neither house has passed a bill, legislators are uncertain about what they will have to work with.

Bond's inclusion of a new age of majority law into the special session call was broad enough to include a complete revision of the law. But the governor urged the legislature to take action only on marriages, real estate transactions, contracts and notary public qualifications.

Four bills carrying Bond's specific recommendations have been introduced in the Senate, with Senate minority floor leader A. Clifford Jones, R-Brentwood, handling all four. Jones was the author of the original age of majority law, which was struck down by the state Supreme Court on Nov. 12.

The price tag for the special session will be $369,194, according to the appropriations bill passed by the House. Appropriations will be spent on secretarial help, supplies, mileage expenses and per diem payments to legislators.

Absenteeism has not been a problem, as was feared earlier by Bond. Senate attendance in the first two weeks of the special session has been above 80 per cent, and the House attendance has been above 90 per cent.

A total of 49 senators and representatives eligible for the special session will not be back when the regular session convenes in January.

Jury finds man guilty of killing dog

BLOOMFIELD — Leo Yancer of Advance was found guilty Wednesday and fined $10 for killing one dog and wounding another during a trial in Stoddard County Magistrate Court. The dog killed was a beagle hound owned by Herbert Loughary, and the wounded dog was owned by Beverly Shepard, both of rural Advance.

Loughary testified that he witnessed the shooting of Mrs. Shepard's dog and, upon investigating, discovered his own dog dead near the Yancer home. When asked why he had killed his dog, Loughary said Yancer replied that he didn't know the dog was his and said he would get him another one.

Yancer admitted shooting the dogs and stated that they often got into his trash, barked at his wife, chased his cats, ate his cat food and were general pests.

Yancer's attorney maintained that, under a Missouri law, a dog or dogs caught chasing a domesticated animal could be shot by the animal's owner.

The prosecuting attorney stated that no evidence had been presented that the dogs were chasing the cats at the time of the shooting.

Judge Koss Blomeyer ruled that even though dogs can be terrible pests, there is a law against shooting dogs, and said Yancer was guilty by his own admission. He further stated that the law mentioned by the defense attorney was intended for livestock.

The judge rejected the prosecuting attorney's recommendation that Yancer make restitution and fined him $10 and costs.

In other cases, a disturbing the peace charge was dismissed against Mary M. Edwards of Bloomfield following testimony in a court trial. Ms. Edwards had been accused of disturbing the peace of Charles Edwards, her former husband, while he was visiting his mother's home in Bloomfield.

Preliminary hearing was set on Dec. 5 for Jimmy Midkiff of Poplar Bluff on a charge of obtaining a controlled drug by assuming the role of a doctor. Bond was set at $2,000.

Dennis Gott of Dudley was given a 30-day jail sentence after pleading guilty to chopping the trunk of his sister's automobile with an ax.

Trial was set on Dec. 5 for Calvin Leroy Adams, Charles Dewey Sissom and Truman Eugene Medley of Sikeston, who are charged with the felonious burning of an Essex house. Bond was set at $2,000 each.

Preliminary hearing was set on Dec. 12 for William M. Beck on five counts of tampering with a motor vehicle.

Robert Carl Maddox was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence for common assault against his former wife.

Trial of Joe Lloyd Trask was set on Dec. 5 after he pleaded not guilty to a charge of careless and imprudent driving.

Eric Smith

Smith wins district FB speaking event

EAST PRAIRIE — Eric Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and a sophomore at East Prairie High School, has been declared the winner of this year's district Farm Bureau public speaking contest, after emerging victorious over five other area contestants.

The annual contest is sponsored by the Young Farmers branch of Farm Bureau . Each contestant was required to speak on the topic, "Farm Bureau Gives You More". The speeches were designed to inform farmers of the need to pull together into a farm organization such as Farm Bureau.

Smith now will compete in the state contest Saturday in Jefferson City against eight other district winners for cash prizes of $100, $50 and $25.

Mississippi county RSVP bylaws adopted

EAST PRAIRIE — Proposed bylaws for the Mississippi County Retired Senior Volunteer Program were adopted Nov. 19 by the advisory committee and committee chairmen were appointed by John Hopkins, advisory committee chairman.

Chairmen appointed included Joe Webb of East Prairie, finance committee; Mrs. Ethel Small of Wyatt, transportation committee, and Mrs. Elizabeth Brown of East Prairie, recognition and awards committee.

Terms of office for members of the advisory committee were set as follows: one year, Pearl Caid of Charleston, Barney Webster, Jack Barnhill and Mrs. Roxie DeField of East Prairie and Mrs. Ethel Small of Wyatt; two years, Mrs. Ida Davis and Dr. Randall Shurtz of East Prairie and Don Moxley of Bertrand; three years, Gerald McElrath, Elizabeth Brown and Joe Webb of East Prairie and John Hopkins and Ozie Adcock of Charleston.

Mrs. Betty Johnson, RSVP director, in reporting on program progress, said there are approximately 85 volunteers in the county at present, who served 778 hours during October.

It was announced that a building on Washington Drive in East Prairie, formerly occupied by Lloyd's Grocery, will be the location of a Thrift Shop made available by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DeField, owners of the building. Display tables have been loaned for the shop by Ray Lewis, and Joe Webb has provided a gas stove. Utility companies also assisted the program by installing meters free of charge.

Mrs. Johnson informed the committee that application for funds for the local program from the federal government is due in January. Hopkins volunteered to assist Mrs. Johnson in writing the proposal.

14 arrested

The arrest list included:

Mary Jane Parden, 306 Kendall St., maintaining a public nuisance; Lester Leroy Pease of Sikeston, driving while intoxicated; Earnest Edgar Finney of Morehouse and Leon Smart and Albert Smart of St. Louis, public intoxication; Johnny Wayne Davison, Route Three, assault and battery.

N. G. Crumpecker Jr. of Morehouse, driving while intoxicated and carrying a concealed weapon; Gary Lee Mize of Oran Route One, operating a motor vehicle with improper tail lights; Herschel Alexander Vernon of Fisk Route One and Charles Allen Irwin, 709 E. Gladys St., careless and imprudent driving.

Jimmy Pegue, 228 Westgate St., failing to obey a reasonable request of a police officer; Ted Ray of 411 Nelson, East Prairie, carteless and imprudent driving and destroying city property; Dorothy Tredwell of Marston, petit larceny and assault and battery; and Faye Mullin, Route Two, petit larceny.

The Washington Monument is the world's biggest sundial, the 555-foot obelisk pointing out the hour with its immense shadow swinging around time spokes shoveled through the winters' snows. As a timepiece, it would only be useful for tourists looking down from atop the monument.

Senate to try again on loan interest bill

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Senate planned to try again today to come up with a loan interest bill that will meet four basic requirements—contain some consumer safeguards, get the governor's signature, satisfy financial and real estate interests and be accepted by the House.

A bill opposed by financial interests was rejected last week after outgoing Sen. Earl Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, succeeded in attracting enough votes to restrict the number of points—fees charged to obtain a loan to two, and to eliminate an interest increase for small loan agencies. Blackwell got help from Maurice Schechter, D-Creve Coeur, and William Waters, D-Liberty, in revamping the bill.

The measure would have raised the interest for most loans from 8 to 10 per cent annually. Eight per cent is the lowest charged in the nation, and testimony has shown savings and loan institutions and mortgage bankers are reluctant to lend money at 8 per cent without use of points. There now is no restriction on points.

The Senate was to start work on a bill the governor supports. It removes the interest rate ceiling for home mortgages and restricts the points to only one point for an "origination fee," and one point if the lender has to improve or repair the property.

Amendments are expected from Sen. William Cason, D-Clinton, to allow five points, from Albert Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, to set an interest of 15 per cent annually on loans between $500 and $2,500, and from Jack Gant, D-Independence, to raise the credit union interest rate from 12 to 15 per cent annually.

The small loan rate now is 26.6 Per cent annually for loans up to $500. The current rate above $500 is 8 per cent a year.

Gant and Spradling contend the credit unions and consumer finance companies are hurting just as much in the tight money market as real estate salesmen, the constrcution industry and savings and loan institutions.

Spradling is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee. Cason is the Senate president pro tem, and Gant, in the absence of Sen. Lawrence Lee, D-St. Louis, is the acting majority floor leader: Lee is taking it easy after a heart operation.

Blackwell, who also added a penalty clause before the bill was defeated, said, "We came up here on a pretense of curing the housing recession...Then everybody comes in for a bite of the ham sandwich."

Lobbying was intense all week, with the governor's aides lobbying the lobbyists to get them to compromise on a bill which is acceptable to Gov. Christopher S. Bond, namely, one that has a limitation on points.

With the lack of progress toward a compromise and the addition of several measures to change the majority age from 21 to 18, it appeared the special session would run to Christmas or beyond.

The House has passed an $18.2 Million appropriation bill to fund the special session, a new campaign disclosure law and welfare payments, and the Senate Appropriations Committee will begin considering those items tonight.

The Senate Judiciary Committee also was to begin considering today bills to lower the majority age to 18 for contracts of indebtedness, ability to buy real estate, marriage and ability to obtain a notary public's license.

The State Supreme Court declared a majority rights law unconstitutional because it did not amend the 130 or so majority rights statutes section by section.

The House won't resume work until next Monday, since it doesn't have anything before it to consider.

Snow hampers search for plane crash bodies

UPPERVILLE, Va. (AP) — Heavy snow hampered searchers resuming hheir grim hunt today for the bodies of 92 persons killed when a Trans World Airlines 727 slammed into an Appalachian foothill Sunday.

The chief investigator for the National Transportation Safety Board, Rudolf Kapustin, said 26 bodies were recovered from the crash site near here when searchers quit at 10 p.m. Sunday night.

Reporters on the scene said searchers found parts of 75 bodies early this morning and the cockpit flight recorder.

The instrument will tell investigators the plane's position moments before the crash and help determine the cause of the disaster.

The plane, TWA flight 514 bound for Washington from Indianapolis, Ind., and Columbus, Ohio, sheared off tree tops and slammed into a 10-foot-high rocky ledge near a top-secret government installation.

The three-jet plane disintegrated on impact, strewing bodies and burning wreckage over a wide area on the slope of Mt. Weather, a foothill of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The plane's tail section was found 100 yards below the summit.

John H. Reed, chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board, said it was impossible to say immediately what caused the crash.

TWA officials said relatives of the 85 passengers and seven crew members would be taken by bus today to a temporary morgue near the crash site to identify the remains.

The Mt. Weather crash was followed Sunday by the crash of a Northwest Orient Airlines 727 charter jet near Stony Point, N.Y. about 20 miles northwest of New York City. The plane carried three crewmen and no passengers and was on its way to Buffalo, N.Y., to pick up the Baltimore Colts football team. State police said there was no evidence of survivors.

15 accident patients treated

Fifteen accident patients were treated and released over the weekend in the emergency room at Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Eight treated Saturday were: Danny G. Morgan, 25, Charleston, injured in car accident; Rogers Banks, 25, Benton, injured in car accident; Belinda Milloway, 15, Sikeston, bruised left knee in car accident; Donald Milloway, 9, Sikeston, injured in car accident.

Fire destroys Essex home

DEXTER — The Dexter fire department received two fire calls over the weekend.

The William S. Williams home near Essex was destroyed by a fire that broke out at 5:33 p.m. Sunday.

Dexter Fire Chief Al Bankeen said the cause of the blaze has not been determined. However, the Stoddard County sheriff's department will conduct an investigation for possible arson.

Firemen were called to I.X.L. Manufacturing Co. at 6:52 p.m. Saturday when a sawdust pit caught fire.

Fire Chief Al Banken reported only minor damage and said the fire could have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

WHEN YOU SHOPLIFT...

you leave yourself wide open for arrest. It's not a pleasant experience and you can be sure it's one you'll never forget — because it'll be right there on the records, for keeps. Seems foolish, doesn't it, to risk your reputation, your future, and hurt the people you love, for an unimportant item that you can live without. You can live without the consequences of shoplifting, too. Be smart . . . when "friends" try to tell you that it's cool to steal . . . ask them what's so cool about getting busted.

Think Before You Shoplift!
It May Cost You More Than You're Willing To Pay

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION

Public notice is hereby given that a special election will be held in the City of Sikeston, Missouri, on Tuesday, December 17, 1974, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said City each of the following propositions:

PROPOSITION NO. 1

Proposition to issue the general obligation industrial bonds of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, to the amount of $750,000 for the purpose of purchasing an industrial plant to be leased and otherwise disposed of to Triangle Conduit & Cable Co., Inc., a Delaware corporation, for manufacturing and industrial purposes including real estate, buildings, fixtures, machinery and equipment.

The authorization of said bonds will authorize the levy and collection of an annual tax in addition to the other taxes provided by law on all tangible taxable property in said City sufficient to pay the interest and principal of said bonds as they fall due and to retire the same within twenty years from the date thereof.

PROPOSITION No. 2

Proposition to issue the industrial revenue bonds of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, to the amount of $1,200,000 for the purpose of purchasing an industrial plant to be leased and otherwise disposed of to Triangle Conduit & Cable Co., Inc., a Delaware corporation, for manufacturing and industrial purposes, including machinery and equipment, said bonds to be payable solely from the revenues derived from said project for industrial development and not to be a general obligation of said City.

Said election will be held at the following polling places in said City:

WARD ONE:
Park Precinct 1: Semo Motor Company, 417 North Main Street
Airport Precinct 2: Ethridge Tire Company, 506 North Main Street
WARD TWO:
Allen Precinct 1: Sonny Presley Chevrolet, 127 West Center Street
Sunset Precinct 2: Lincoln School, 229 Westgate

Drowning suit set Dec. 10

BLOOMFIELD — A $1,000,000 civil suit filed against the City of Dexter by Johnny and Faye Peacock, parents of 4-year-old John R. "Randy" Peacock, will be heard Dec. 10 in Stoddard County Circuit Court.

The Peacock child drowned May 21 in an open drainage ditch along north Locust Street near Highway 114 in Dexter, following a heavy rain storm.

The Peacocks have charged that the city was negligent in construction of the ditch and in allowing it to exist.

The suit further charges that the open ditch was and is in a dangerous, condition, is open and is in an unguarded condition.

The city's insurance firm will handle the defense during the suit.

United States.

Shortly afterward, Toby went to work for a Florida-based firm to develop a highway department and supervise road and highway construction in the Southeast Asian country of Laos. More official fumbling and a serious bout with malaria soon brought Toby back to the States minus a job and a lot of pounds from the illness.

Toby's last job came as head of the Scott County Democrat at Benton, which he edited for 14 years. His stint with that newspaper gave him and Mary a chance to settle on a small farm near Benton and for Toby to continue his interest in drawing that had started more than half-a-century before when he started sketching at about age 4. Many of Toby's drawings found their way onto his editorial pages in the form of editorial cartoons.

In addition to their two children, Toby and Mary have five grandchildren, including two daughters of their son Nat, who is a certified public accountant in Farmington, and two daughters and a son of their daughter Mary Ruth, who is a dental technician in Houston, Tex.

Health problems have now brought the Watkinses to their home at 613 Tanner St. The walls of their den now have several of the sketches made in Maine, Equador, and Iceland hanging on them and above the fireplace are the detailed historical sketches Toby was commissioned to prepare for Benton's centennial celebration.

His sketchbooks and folders are filled with hundreds of the drawings collected from their travels; drawings that vary from the landscapes of a Maine fishing harbor to farm scenes, real and imagined from the years in Benton and the years of fertile imagination.

One of the prize albums in their collection is one of all their Christmas cards from past years. Toby has always drawn the cards to have a theme of where he and Mary were living at that particular holiday.

Armed forces

DAYTON, Ohio — Staff Sgt. Johnny R. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Moore of 723 E. Stoddard, Dexter, Mo., is a member of a unit that recently received the Air Force outstanding unit award.

Sgt. Moore is a flight engineer at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, with the 2750th Air Base Wing that was cited for meritorious service from Feb. 1, 1972 through Jan. 31, 1974.

Four squadrons representing more than 5,000 military and civilian members were involved in earning the award.

Sgt. Moore, a 1968 graduate of Dexter High School, attended El Paso Community College at Colorado Springs, Colo.

SAN ANTONIO — Airman Rodger D. Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn M. Ellis of Dexter Mo., Route One, has graduated at Lackland Air Force Base from the Air Force security policeman course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who was trained in security and law enforcement, is being assigned to Whiteman AFB, Mo., for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

Airman Ellis is a 1974 graduate of Dexter High School.

Big Red fail to clinch East title

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "People get tired of coaches talking about team efforts, but this was what it was," Kansas City Coach Hank Stram said.

Stram's underdog Chiefs put pressure Sunday on the St. Louis Cardinals and came off with a 17-13 National Football League upset.

The victory failed to keep East Division-leading St. Louis from clinching at least a National Conference wild card berth in NFL playoffs.

But it did dampen the spirits of Cards quarterback Jim Hart, who threw two costly interceptions in swirling snow flurries.

"No team can play better than its quarterback," muttered Hart, who also heaved a touchdown pass.

"Both were mistakes in judgment," he said in reference to his errant throws.

"I have no excuse for either," he added. "If I'd passed the way I should have been passing, they wouldn't have gotten the ball."

The woes of the Cardinals began after Hart found elusive Terry Metcalf with a 22-yard pass for a 6-0 lead that held through a half.

Then safety Mike Sensibaugh scored a third-quarter Kansas City breakthrough with a piracy at midfield and 18-yard return.

Len Dawson's 21-yard pass set up a four-yard touchdown toss to Jeff Kinney as the Chiefs moved ahead 7-6, and Hart soon afterward fumbled.

St. Louis escaped that miscue only to return immediately to dire straits when linebacker Willie Lanier returned a second Chiefs theft to the Card 3.

Wendell Hayes slammed into the end zone from the 1 for a 14-6 Kansas City lead and Jan Stenerud's 22-yard field goal shoved the Chiefs out of range at 17-6 with only 3:52 left.

"If the quarterback throws the ball right you have a good shot," maintained Hart, who afterward steered the Cards to a late touchdown.

"If the quarterback doesn't play right," he added, "it's a rough go."

"Did he say that?" asked Cards Coach Don Coryell when advised of Hart's views. "Heck," Coryell insisted, "it was something we all had a part of."

Despite the loss the Cards, 9-3, clinched the wild card berth in the National Conference via a Philadephia Eagles triumph eliminating the Green Bay Packers from playoff contention.

Although the Cards could finish in a tie with the Dallas Cowboys, the spot would be theirs by virtue of a better East Division record.

"Maybe tomorrow but not today," replied Hart when asked if the playoff berth were a consolation.

Also unhappy was Coryell, who conceded "they just beat us" and added, "We didn't complete our passes when we had to."

Hart made good on 19 of 39 aerials for 194 yards but the Cards, following a strong opening period, afterward went more than 25 minutes without a first down.

"They're tough," fullback Jim Otis said in respect to the Chiefs, "but we didn't execute. We didn't do well on first down plays."

The Kansas City team effort Stram described included a 47-yard sprint by rookie Cleophus Miller in the final quarter which set up Stenerud's field goal.

Miller, subbing for injured Woody Green, bolted 95 yards on 15 carries as the game's leading ball carrier.

"We went from a 3-4 defensive alignment to a four-man line using four linebackers," Stram explained in respect to the Kansas City defense.

"This was a big factor, but overall I thought we just got a great team effort," he added.

The victory lifted Kansas City's record to 5-7 in the American Conference West and Stram noted, "We've still got a shot at a .500 mark.

"We haven't had a losing season in 10 years and I'd like to make it 11," Stram said. "Everybody's been predicting we'd finish 4-10."

Southeast U. wins opener

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Coach Bob Cradic's Southeat Missouri State University tipped off its season Saturday night at Houck field House with a rousing 101-65 victory over Concordia Seminary of St. Louis.

The Indians started slow, falling behind 10-4 before regrouping and racking up 15 straight points to move ahead for good.

SEMO raced to a 51-37 first half lead, displaying a tenacious defense after its shaky start, steam rolling their opponents 50-28 in the last half.

Marvin Haynes and Steve Valle scored 17 points each and led a balanced SEMO scoring effort that included six players with double figures. Mark Baker added 14, Joe Cagle 13 and Tom Mitchell and Larry Rogrs chipped in 10 points each while five others shared in the scoring.

Southeast travels to Arkansas State at Jonesboro Thursday night.

Hawks rely on FT

NEW MADRID — Coach Nick Lanphers' Kelly Hawks, rated eighth in the first high school basketball poll of the season, tipped off its season here Tuesday night with a 76-62 win over the NMHS Indians.

New Madrid hustled its way into a 18-16 first quarter lead, but failed to do little with the Hawks defense the next two quarters and fell behind 51-38 as the fourth quarter began and was never able to recover despite a 24 point fourth period scoring outburst.

Russ Mothershead wheeled and dealed for 24 points to lead Kelly's offense, which relied on its charity shooting to claim the victory as both teams hit 27 shots from the field. KHS canned 22 of 26 shots from the line while NMHS managed only eight. Steve Glenn led the Indians offense with 24 points.

Kelly's junior varsity tipped off the night with a 49-42 victory behind the 17 point leadership of Ditthinger. Humphrey scored 10 for the Indians.

Hickman slaughters Sumner in final

By The Associated Press

Columbia Hickman, Boonville, St. Louis Country Day and Lockwood are the champions of Missouri high school football.

The Hickman Kewpies had a field day Saturday, mauling St. Louis Sumner 54-6 in the Class 4-A championship playoffs at Columbia. Boonville dethroned Washington 34-14 in the Class 3-A showdown.

Country Day broke away in the second period to rout Pleasant Hill 34-7 in Class 2-A, and Lockwood, behind quarterback Bruce Lilienkamp, trampled King City 34-0 in the Class 1-A finale.

The Kewpies went right to work on Sumner, romping for 21 points in the opening quarter. David Williams scored three times and Gerry Ellis twice. Williams made touchdowns on runs of one, eight and eight yards. Ellis scored on runs of 10 and 12 yards.

Sumner avoided a shutout in the second quarter when Ben Cowins raced 24 yards for a touchdown. Hickman ground out 316 yards rushing and added 102 yards through the air.

After a scoreless first half, Boonville erupted for 26 points in the third quarter against Washington. Mark Thomas made the Pirates' first two touchdowns, running three yards for one and grabbing an eight-yard pass from Mark Hitner for the other.

Washington came up with two touchdowns in the last period. Rick Alfermann ran 13 yards for six points, and Ted Stahl threw a 10-yard pass to Tim Calvin for the contest's final touchdown.

Gary Forrest scored on runs of one, 26 and one yards for three Country Day touchdowns. Bobby Clamp made two more, running one and 26 yards. Pleasant Hill went ahead first, scoring on a one-yard rush by Kyle Clark.

Lilienkamp put on a big show for Lockwood. He tossed four touchdown passes and fan five yards for another score. His payoff passes were to Jim Parker and Nathan Wehrman, each catching two. Lockwood, after moving ahead with eight points in the second quarter, wrappted up the game with a 26-point outburst in the final period.

Hornets display defense

By BILL HARRISON

ADVANCE — Defense is the name of the game! There are few if any teams in sports that can win a championship of any sort without a good defense and it was the defense that propelled the Advance Hornets past Memphis, Tenn. Woodale high school here Saturady night 72-66.

Woodale had the offense except maybe lacking a good guard in the lineup. They could run and shoot extremely well but Coach Carroll Cookson surprised the tall team from Memphis with a full court press and forced enough turnovers to help the Hornets to an 18-6 first period lead and they held on from there to win he game.

Woodale had a 6-6 center in the lineup but big David Tropf, who probably plays his best games when he is forced to, and forward Royce Yount kept control of the backboards throughout most of the game. Danny Long had probably his most productive game defensively wise of he season. Tropf was devastating both offensively and defensively. The 6-6 center ended the game with a total of 26 points.

After Advance took the lead in the first period Woodale began to get their offense in gear and they do have a potant offense if allowed to operate properly, the Memphis team outscored their host 18-17 in the second quarter but trailed 35-24 at the half.

The Hornets kept the defensive pressure on their opponent in the third period with guard Steve Cookson doing a fine job out front forcing bad passes to the inside and Tropf and Yount, along with Long kept Advance's lead intact through the third period. The Hornets took the quarter 22-18. With an 11 point lead early in the fourth period, Woodale's Johnny Miller began to click. The big forawrd ended the game with 26 points, all from fine outside shooting. Woodale began to cut into the lead and with three minutes left in the game Advance's lead had been trimmed to five points.

At this point the Hornets missed three straight snowbird shots and Woodale cut the lead to 67-64 with a minute left. Advance made a key steal in the last minute and forced Woodale into fouls as the Hornets attempted to run the clock down.

Defense was the key factor in the Hornets junior varsity victory 35-31. With Steve Vavak supplying the offense with 23 points his teammates did an excellent job of putting the defense to Woodale.

SC storms from 24-0 deficit

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Southern California, the 1972 national champion, and Notre Dame, the 1973 national champion, provided a fitting wind-up to college football's bizarre regular season Saturday, with the result that neither team is likely to be the 1974 national champion.

Notre Dame's successor undoubtedly will be either Oklahoma, No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, or runner-up Alabama. Both are 11-0—the only teams with perfect records. But Oklahoma, on probation and ineligible for a postseason appearance, has completed its campaign while Alabama must face a frustrated Notre Dame squad in the Orange Bowl.

"There are only two undefeated teams left now," Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer said Saturday after his Sooners packed it in for 1974 by turning back Oklahoma State's strong challenge 44-13 thanks to a 28-point fourth quarter. "I saw the other one (Alabama) play on television Friday and I believe we are the better team. I know we are a more physical team."

In the game Switzer saw, Alabama held off No. 7 Auburn 17-13 and wound up its regular season with a fourth straight Southeastern Conference crown.

The national championship will be decided after the bowl games by the sports writers and sportscasters who vote in The AP poll.

Meanwhile, sixth-ranked Southern California ended Notre Dame's hopes of repeating as national champ Saturday with an incredbile rally that erased a 24-0 deficit and lifted the Trojans to an amazing 55-24 rout of fifth-ranked Notre Dame after they trailed 24-0 late in the first half. It was Notre Dame's worst licking since a 59-0 mauling by Army in 1944 and the worst defeat in Ara Parseghian's 11 years as coach.

Even worse, it was the second setback for the defending national champs and, since they're probably out of the championship picture, all it left them with is the possibility of ending Alabama's dream of the No. 1 spot for the second year in a row.

Also on Friday, No. 17 Texas trounced eighth-ranked Texas A&M 32-3, dousing the Aggies' Cotton Bowl hopes and sending Baylor against 10th-ranked Penn State in Dallas on Jan. 1.

With its Cotton Bowl berth secure, Baylor, 16th in The AP ratings, clinched an outright Southwest Conference championship Saturday by whipping Rice 24-3. On Thursday night, Penn State whipped No. 18 Pitt 31-10.

Houston was the only other Top Twenty team in action over the weekend and the 15th-ranked Cougars, headed for the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl, were stunned 30-14 by Tulsa's Missouri Valley champs.

But the game that capped the holiday weekend football binge was Southern Cal's fantastic rally, led by Notre Dame-killer Anthony Davis' four touchdowns, including a 100-yard romp with the second-half kikoff that swung the tide the Trojans' way.

"The kickoff was the main turning point," said Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian.

The Irish rolled up a 24-0 lead before Davis scored on a seven-yard pitch from Pat Haden 10 seconds before halftime to make it 24-6. Following his long kickoff return—the sixth of his career, an NCAA record—Davis added touchdown runs of six and four yards and a two-point conversion dash before the third period was over, lifting the Trojans into a 27-24 lead.

Haden fired scoring passes of 18 and 45 yards to Johnny McKay, capping a wild 35-point period, and Southern Cal scored twice more in the final quarter on Haden's fourth scoring pass—a 16-yarder to Shelton Diggs—and Charles Phillips' 58-yard interception return.

The four touchdowns gave Davis 11 in three scraps with Notre Dame. He destroyed the Irish with a six-touchdown spree two years ago.

"Yes," Parseghian said, "the momentum did shift on that kickoff return by Davis. Then we had the punt return, then the fumble and then..."

It hurt too much to go on.

Oklahoma trailed Oklahoma State 13-10 until Grant Burget's four-yard scoring run in the third period broke the dam. Steve Davis tallied on a one-yard run to start the fourth-period deluge, Joe Washington scored on a 57-yard punt return and a five-yard run and freshman Elvis Peacock darted 10 yards to wrap it up.

On Friday, Alabama jumped to a 10-0 lead over Auburn on Willie Shelby's 45-yard run with a screen pass from Richard Todd and Bucky Berrey's 36-yard field goal. Calvin Culliver's 13-yard run made it 17-7 in the third period and the Crimson Tide held on the rest of the way.

THE FAMILY CIRCUS — By Bil Keane

Today in U. S. History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1942, a nuclear chain reaction was demonstrated for the first time by scientists working on a secret project at the University of Chicago.

On this date —

In 1804, Napoleon Bonaparte croned himself Emperor of France.

In 1805, the armies of Napoleon were victorious in the Battle of Austerlitz in what is now Czechoslovakia.

In 1960, the head of the Anglican Church, the Archbishop of Canterbury, broke church precedent by visiting Pope John XXIII at the Vatican.

Ten years ago: Pope Paul XI flew to Bombay, India to attend the International Eucharistic Congress and was greeted by a crowd of one million.

Five years ago: Fifty-four persons perished in a flash fire in a home for the aged at Notre Dame du Lac, Quebec.

One year ago: The U.S. Senate, meeting in its first Sunday session in 112 years, failed to break a filibuster that was blocking legislation to extend the government's debt limit and finance presidential campaigns with public funds.

Thought for today: There is many a good man to be found under a shabby hat — Chinese proverb.

Soaring sugar prices, boycotts boost food bill

Associated Press

Soaring sugar prices, already the target of government probes and consumer boycotts, boosted the price of the family grocery bill during November, an Associated Press market-basket survey shows.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the prices on March 1, 1973 at a supermarket in each of 13 cities and has rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month.

The latest survey showed the bill was up during November in every city except Dallas, where sugar was unavailable and therefore did not boost the total as it did elsewhere.

The average November increase in the 12 cities where the bill went up was 6 per cent. If sugar was removed from the total, however, the rise was only seven-tenths of one per cent. Not counting sugar, the bill declined in six of the 12 cities and stayed the same in one.

During October, the AP marketbasket bill was up in seven cities, down in four and unchanged in two.

A comparison of current prices with those at the beginning of the year showed the marketbasket bill up in every city, with an average increase of 20 per cent. Again, much of the increase was due to disproportionately large boosts in the cost of sugar which more than tripled in some areas as worldwide demand shot up.

Government authorities have predicted that food prices overall will rise about 15 or 16 per cent this year. The Council on Wage and Price Stability held hearings in Washington, D.C., last week to investigate sugar prices and a house subcommittee plans another probe this week.

Farmers, refiners and retailers repeatedly have denied that they are taking advantage of consumers by charging high prices for sugar. Farmers concede they're getting more money —raw sugar is selling for about 60 cents a pound, about five times what it was a year ago—but they argue that their costs for things like fuel and fertilizer have risen sharply. They also contend that they need the profits on sugar to make up for losses on other farm items like cattle.

There were scattered sales, generally reflecting lower prices paid to farmers in recent months. The price of a pound of chopped chuck, for example, was down in six cities, unchanged in four and up in only three. Eggs went down in four cities, were unchanged in three and went up in six.

The day of the week on which the check was made varied depending on the month. Standard brands and sizes were used when available. If the requested size and brand was not available on March 1, 1973, a comparable substitute was selected. Items temporarily out of stock on one of the survey dates being compared were not included in the over-all total.

The latest government marketbasket showed that during October, the cost of a year's supply of groceries rose $4 to another record high.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, all-beef frankfurters and granulated sugar.

The cities checked were: Albuquerque, Atlanta, Ga., Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Salt Lake City and Seattle.

NFO opens annual convention in Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP) — The National Farmers Organization opens its annual convention here this week angry about low profits for farmers amid high food prices.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley said Sunday the theme of the meeting will be "Are farmers going to take it (low profits) or fight?"

"Out of this convention we hope to give farmers a plan to fight," he said. "Farmers throughout the nation are going to see how determined our farmers are to correct low prices."

He said the NFO has "gone from the defensive to the offensive" in the past year and if they decide to withhold their farm products from the market it would be done in " a systematic way."

"It's not a matter of if farmers can do it, but just if farmers can do it in a legal way," he said.

He said that while profits for farmers have dropped 30 per cent for milk, cattle and hogs, retail prices have not followed the decline.

"It doesn't make sense for them (retailers) to have the prices they have," he said. "It's the big question everyone's been trying to answer. All we know is that farmers have been taking a drop."

The nation's milk and meat supplies would be gone within a week if farmers withheld their products because of low profits, he said.

"Food is produced on the farm and farmers own it first," said Oren Lee Staley. "We feel it is just as patriotic to keep products on the farm as it is for coal miners to strike and keep coal in the mines."

Staley of Rea, Mo., spoke with newsmen prior to the NFO's 19th annual convention that begins Wednesday. More than 12,000 persons will attend, he said.

Staley, NFO president since its founding in 1955, will be challenged in his re-election effort amid recent NFO financial troubles. The Security and Exchange Commission has filed several suits against the group, charging violations of federal security laws.

The SEC has said the NFO's liabilities outstrip its assets and the organization is not capable of repaying more than $7 million borrowed from its members.

Staley said, however, the NFO "has met the challenge" of the SEC and that a September fund-raising meeting brought $5 million, enabling the organization to meet its financial responsibilities."

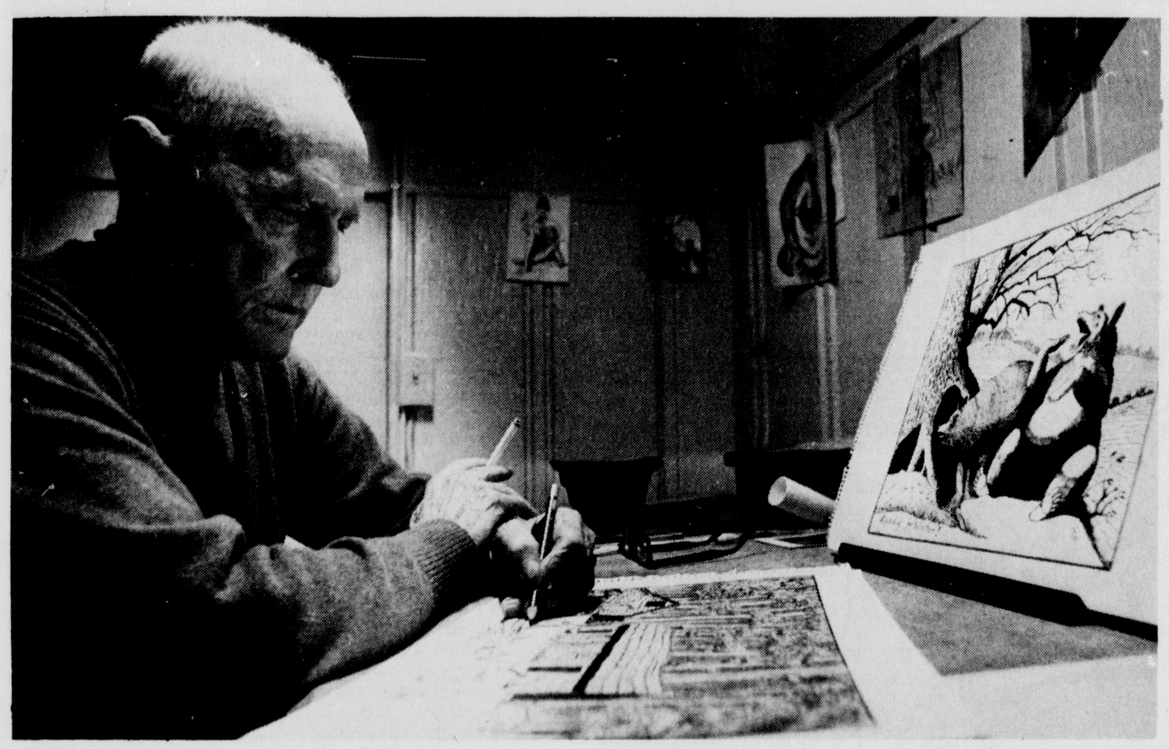
OUR 63RD YEAR | 15¢ PER COPY | SIKESTON, SCOTT COUNTY, MISSOURI, | MONDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1974 | 18 PAGES | NUMBER 237



Extradition expected this week

JACKSON, Miss — Gov. Bill Waller will grant the extradition Tuesday or Wednesday of Dr. Norman A. Garrison Jr. of Corinth, informed sources told The Daily Standard today.

Dr. Garrison has been sought by Dunklin County, Mo., authorities to face a first-degree murder charge in connection with the Sept. 8 slaying of his former wife, Lee Ann Garrison, in Kennet,, Mo.

Jimmy Williams, Gov. Waller's legal aide, told a Daily Standard reporter today that a court order and letter from Dunklin County Prosecuting Attorney Charles H. Baker was received by the governor's office last Wednesday.

Williams said the letter touched on two points of Waller's extradition arrangement, announced Oct. 23, in which he sought the guarantee of bond for Dr. Garrison throughout all court proceedings and the waiver of any prior contempt of court charges against the Mississippi physician until the murder proceedings are completed.

Missouri Gov. Christopher S. Bond said he was unable to enter into an agreement such as outlined by Gov. Waller and was backed up in his opinion by Missouri Attorney General John C. Danforth.

The material from Dunklin County authorities then was sent in an effort to meet enough of Waller's requests that he would return Dr. Garrsion to Missouri

"Dr. Garrison will not be able to challenge the Governor's decision, but could seek a habeas corpus open hearing in a Mississippi court," Williams noted. "They (Dr. Garrison and his attorneys) would have to appeal to Circuit Court, who could either grant a hearing or deny it."

Any hearing of this nature would be open to the public and be held in a Mississippi court.

The Daily Standard learned over the weekend that private investigators have turned up some new evidence which one source claimed to be "explosive in its nature."

Fayette County, Tenn., authorities told The Daily Standard today that no one from Dunklin County had contacted them about a gun confiscated from a Missouri ex-convict from Parma, Mo., which private investigators believe could be the murder weapon.

"No statement" ... "I have no statements to make," Pros. Atty. Baker said today when contacted and asked if he knew of any new developments in the murder case and if anyone from his office or Sheriff Raymond Scott's had contacted Tennessee authorities about the alleged murder weapon.

Sheriff Scott was unavailable for comment today after five calls to his office.

John B. Farese Sr., a defense attorney for Dr. Garrison, told The Daily Standard that he had sent the Dunklin County prosecutor a request to examine the bullet taken from the deceased, but had not received a reply as of today.

The attorney had no comment on the possible extradition grant. But informed sources said the defense attorneys are not opposing it at this time and have been asking for a full-scale open hearing.

The habeas corpus hearing will deal with about the same information presented at the extradition proceedings. Missouri must prove that Dr. Garrison was in the state at the time the crime was committed.

4 killed in area accidents

Four persons were killed and 21 injured in 13 area traffic accidents over the weekend, the highway patrol announced today. The four fatalities raised the death toll on Southeast Missouri roads this year to 103, compared to 142 persons killed at the same time last year.

Larry Dale Sullivan, 23, and David Sullivan, 49, of St. Charles and Stanley Denver Crutchfield, 23, of St. Louis were killed in a two-vehicle accident at 1:30 a.m. Saturday 15 miles north of Poplar Bluff onHighway 67.

The accident occurred when a southbound car driven by Larry Dale Sullivan crossed the center line of the highway and collided head on with a northbound truck driven by John Engram Summers, 61, of Canalou.

Summers received serious injuries and was taken to Doctors Hospital at Poplar Bluff.

The bodies of both Sullivans and Crutchfield were taken to Gish-Bowles Funeral Home in Piedmont.

Dr. Martin H. Bohnenkamp, 51, of Flat River was killed in a one-vehicle accident at 6:30 a.m. Saturday on Highway 72 two miles west of Fredericktown.

The accident occurred when Bohnenkamp's eastbound car ran off the side of the road and struck a rock bluff.

His body was taken to Wilson Funeral Home in Fredericktown.

Two Caruthersville women and a Baldwin, Ill., man were injured in a one-car accident at 12:15 a.m. Sunday on Interstate 55 six miles south of Steele.

The accident occurred when a northbound pickup truck driven by Ronald Clifton Medcalf, 32, of Baldwin ran off the road and overturned several times.

Medcalf and two passengers, Dorothy Huen, 19, and Pretice Caples, 30, of Caruthersville, recieved minor injuries and were taken toChickasawaba Hospital at Blytheville, Ark.

Phillip E. Bailey, 15, of Clarkton received minor injuries in a two-vehicle accident at 1 p.m. Saturday on Highway 25 in Clarkton.

Bailey was taken to Dunklin County Memorial Hospital at Kennett.

A Conway, Ark., man received minor injuries at 10:45 a.m. Sunday mon Highway 67 six miles south of Fredericktown when his southbound car was struck by another car and the unidentified driver left the scene of the accident.

Michael Thomas Crimmins, 20, of Conway was injured when the driver of the second car pulled onto the shoulder of the road, then slid back onto the highway and struck the right side of the Crimmins car, which overturned several times.

According to the patrol, the House,store entered here

An electric guitar was stolen and a house and store were illegally entered in incidents reported over the weekend, police said today.

The guitar, valued at $200 and owned by Richard Parker of 706 Miller St., East Prairie, was taken between 9:30 and 10:15 p.m. Saturday from a car parked at Mint Club, 209 E. Center St.

Thieves took $10 in change from a barbecue shop at 208 Young St. sometime between 9:30 p.m. Saturday and 3:15 p.m. Sunday. Police said the burglar apparently got into the building by breaking the lock off the door.

Ten quarters and a portable radio-phonograph worth $30 were reportedly taken from the Dorothy Paxton home, 205 Rear Sikes Ave., between 6:45 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. last Wednesday vmn police said today. There was no sign of forced entry.

Music items burglarized

CHARLESTON — Police are investigating a burglary and theft of an eight-tract stereo tape player and two speakers, valued at $85, and 75 county and western tapes, valued at $200. The theft occurrred sometime between Nov. 24 and Nov . 28.

The items were stolen from a house at 216 E. Marshall St. belonging to Charles Heppe, who was in the process of moving into the home. An unlocked window on the east side of the house provided access to the residence.

Murder charge filed

HAYWOOD CITY — A Haywood City man has been charged with first-degree murder in connection with the apparent beating death of Julia Lee Thompson, 70, of Haywood City, whose body was found in her home early Friday morning.

Sheriff John Dennis said today that Robert Blackman, 22, was taken into custody at Hamilton's Cafe in Haywood City about midnight Friday.

The woman's body was discovered by her sister and brother-in-law, Dorothy and Sam Butler, about 1:30 a.m. Friday. The Butlers live next door and became suspicious when they noticed the lights in the house were burning later than usual. The woman lived alone and usually did not stay up late.

Deputy Sheriff Vernon "Buu Jones, who made the initial investigation, said the motive forthe murder was apprarently robbery. An empty coin purse was found open in the room.

Sheriff Dennis said today that Soloman Tyler, 21, of . Haywood City was picked up at the same time as Blackman and that both have been charged with burglary and stealing in connection with a break-in at McMullin Gin Co. about six miles north of Sikeston a few weeks ago. About $250 worth of tools were stolen at the gin.

Warrant issued for suspect

ORAN — A warrant was issued Saturday for the arrest of Larry Guntner, 25, of Chaffee in connection with an armed robbery at Huey's IGA Foodliner about 10:30 ap.m. Wednesday, according to Sheriff John Dennis.

Approximately $1,000 was taken in the robbery.

Dennis also reported that two persons have been charged with stealing more than $50 from Al's Tavern in Chaffee Wednesday.

James Waugh, 44, of Cape Giradeau was picked up by the sheriff's department at his home Sunday, and Terry Guntner, 29, of Chaffee turned herself in at the sheriff's department, Dennis said.

The two reportedly stole $60 in cash from the tavern while the attendant was in the back of the building.

Council to meet

The City Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the City Administrative Building.

The agenda will include a proposal to change the name of West End Park to honor the late Roberta Rowe who donated her time to summer youth programs.

Other items will include the taking of fertilizer bids for the new recreation complex and parking meter bids to replace broken meters and reviewing several beer license applications.

Watkins combines engineering, travel and art in 50-year career

By Tim Ludwig

In the half century between the day they married in Sikeston in 1923 and returned to make their home in retirement, 90 moves and many homes have given N.C. "Toby" and Mary Watkins an opportunity to live throughout much of the eastern United States, in Iceland and high in the Andes Mountains of Ecuador.

Toby and Mary Blanton met when he transferred from a rural New Madrid County school south of Sikeston to the seventh grade in town and walked in and sat down in the only seat left in the room, a front row corner desk right in front of his future wife. Toby describes himself then as a real country boy— "the only boy in the class to come to school barefoot."

Mary liked the drawings that Toby was continually sketching, and they struck up an acquaintance that resulted in marriage several years later.

Three years of living on the farm brought hard economic times, so, in 1926, he went to work for the highway department. That started the long series of moves.

In 1928, they left Missouri when Toby joined the Arkansas Highway Department. Toby's college training had been limited to agriculture, but he learned on the job and taught himself until 1931, when they moved to Louisiana where he had been named project engineer for an important highway job.

That ended early in 1932 and the Watkinses returned to Sikeston. Toby then got a job with the State Highway Department, where he stayed until 1935.

The depression was well entrenched by this time and, like many other workers, Toby Watkins obtained a job with the Department of the Interior in the National Park Service.

His engineering and drawing experience both came into use while he worked in the then national parks of Sam A. Baker, Roaring River and Quiver River in Missouri Many of the work projects were in the construction of roads and recreational facilities in the parks.

During off hours, Toby would illustrate the camp newspaper with detailed cartoon style drawings of the workers in their coveralls and outsized workshoes and often pot-bellied government supervisers.

According to Mary, Toby's drawings were used every month in the national Civilian Conservation Corps magazine published in Washington.

The Watkinses transferred to a government defense project in 1941 at Kingsport, Tenn. That project lasted through most of World War II.

In 1944, near the end of the war, Toby took on another job, building a rocket power production plant in Wisconsin. Those jobs were three shifts per day, seven days a week and 364 days per year (Christmas was the only holiday or vacation(.

As supervisor, he had to spend part of his time with nearly every shift, so Mary took on the full-time job of rearing the couple's two children, Mary Ruth and Nat Jr.

After the war, the Watkinses returned to Sikeston for a time, and Toby worked as a printer for the Sikeston Standard. That soon ended when Toby and Mary moved to Maine in 1946 to build a healthy section of the Maine Turnpike.

Ecuador was the next stop on the growing list, where Toby had been hired by an Eastern engineering firm to build a pumping station, water treatment facility and 18-mile pipeline to bring drinking water to the high Andes city of Guayaquil.

While having their papers processed by the American Embassy in Ecuador, the Watkinses were invited to meet the Counsel General. He recognized Mary's birthplace of Falls Church, Va., to be his own home town, and it turned out that they had known each other many years before.

The three years in Ecuador proved to be a high point in ways other than the mountains. While there, the Watkinses were treated to many good times on the plantations of friends and sightseeing excursions common to any tourist in a new country.

Completion of the water project in Ecuador sent Toby and Mary to Trenton, N.J., for the start of a still continuing project to build sanitation facilities and over a hundred miles of sewers. Toby stayed with that project from 1951 to 1953, then was asked to take charge of a new extension of the Maine Turnpike.

That highway construction job involved only a 67-mile stretch but included 90 bridges.

Next on the list was another job with the U.S. government. This time Toby was sent to Iceland to work on construction of a huge air base near the capital. The job did not include arrangements for sending Mary to Iceland, but the Watkinses managed to get her there and find living space on the base.

Toby again brought his drawing into play on the air base job. Part of the work there involved detailed plan drawings of fixtures and facilities to be built on the base. Because of fumbling on the job and attitudes of not really trying to get the job done by the job supervisers, Toby made derisive jokes in some of his detailed drawings and his traditional sketches.

One year later the job he held was listed as abolished, so Toby and Mary came back to the

THE CASE AGAINST ROCKEFELLER

The people have been treated to a long and involved probing by the United States Senate into the confirmation of Nelson Rockefeller as Vice President of the United States. Thus far, the Senators have been largely looking into "Rocky's" conduct as a philanthropist and an uncomplimentary book about a one-time political opponent. While these matters may be of interest to gossip columnists, they seem to us to have very little substance relative to the matter at hand; what about Rockefeller's policies and practices as a public administrator?

Barron's weekly is one of the few publications which has given any attention at all to the record of Nelson Rockefeller as Governor and chief administrative officer of the State of New York — a post which he held for some 15 years. And here is part of the record:

In the past two years, New York State has been losing population — a trend which follows on the heels of a major decline in manufacturing activity and jobs because — says Barron's — of the "hostile climate" in the State of New York. During the Rockefeller reign in power, New York State's share of the nation's manufacturing declined from 11.2 per cent to 9.2 per cent, and the state suffered a loss of over 400,000 jobs. Under Rockefeller's administration, the New York State budget also increased from $1.9 billion to nearly $9 billion. During Rocky's term in office, the rate on personal income tax more than doubled — from 7 per cent to 15 per cent. During the same period, the state gasoline levy advanced from four to eight cents per gallon, and the cigaret tax from three to fifteen cents a pack. In addition, a 4 per cent state sales tax went into effect.

Such is the record of the welfare-state policies of Nelson Rockefeller. Is this the man we want a heart-beat from the White House.

THROUGH A TEST TUBE BRIGHTLY

Career-minded women might well consider the field of chemistry. For the first time, reports Chemical & Engineering News, female graduates with a B.S. degree in chemistry or chemical engineering are receiving higher starting salaries than male graduates.

The publication predicts that women's median starting salary in 1974 will climb to 105 per cent that of men. About a decade ago, it was only 86 per cent that of men.

The report is based on responses to the American Chemical Society's annual Starting Salary Survey of new graduates.

However, years of unequal employment practices toward women and minority chemists are still reflected in statistics from society members.

For example, women and minority chemists still earn less than men with comparable experience. They had a higher unemployment rate in 1974 than the figure for all chemists. They hold fewer managerial positions. And in 1973, two-thirds of the U.S. chemistry departments offering Ph.D. degrees had no women on their faculties.

On the other hand, one newly graduated chemical engineer, a female American Indian, was swamped with 12 job offers. The average number of job offers received by B.S. graduates in chemical engineering this year was 4.6.

HOLE RECORD GOES UNDER

Here's a new world's record you won't find in your current Guiness:

According to Oil & Gas Journal, the world's deepest hole, a gas well, has been drilled in Washita County, Okla. Lone Star Producing Co.'s 1 Bertha Rogers bottomed at 31,441 feet. Lone Star also drilled what was formerly the world's deepest hole at 30,050 feet.

Cost of the record hole is reported to be around $5 million — or a little under $160 a foot.

Described as a small gasser, 1 Bertha Rogers initially tested at four million cubic feet a day in July. But since then, says the company, the well has lost pressure.

Washington is Mecca For Public Employees

As might be expected, the Nation's Capital is Mecca for government employees, says Tax foundation, Inc.

In addition to 173,000 Federal employees, the District of Columbia has some 58,000 employees of its own, about one for every 13 residents.

The District's 728 employees per 10,000 population compares with an average of 456, both state and local, per 10,000 in the rest of the nation. D. C. has unusually high concentrations of local workers in public welfare, health, sanitation, correction, police and fire protection.

Washington's municipal payroll of $57.2 million for October 1973 - up from $42.8 million a year earlier - surpasses the combined state and local government payroll outlays in each of 18 states, according to Department of Commerce figures.

UP TO THE PUBLIC

A short time ago, an official of a large oil company said the ultimate boundaries of the domestic petroleum industry - the extent to which it can help meet the challenge of rising energy demands - are four in number. "The first," he stated, "is the one imposed by nature: the amount of oil and gas remaining to be discovered. The second boundary is technological. It involves the entire range of tools and procedures -- and the ideas and concepts -- essential to finding and producing new reserves under increasingly difficult conditions. The third is economic. . . the necessary investments of money and manpower. . . The fourth boundary -- and one of growing importance -- is public opinion. Whether our industry can measure up to its full potential will depend, in large part, upon public attitudes and the manner in which these attitudes are translated into governmental policies."

The oil company official -- a geologist by training -- believes that within these boundaries, the U.S. domestic petroleum industry can provide the nation's consumer with adequate petroleum energy at a reasonable balance between cost, dependability and protection of the environment. Studies leave little doubt "that there is still a great deal of oil to be found in this country." The most serious obstacles to adquacy of future petroleum supplies lie in the areas of economics and public concern. He referred, as have other oil industry representatives, to the need for increased incentives.

Finally, the oil official made it clear that, "In the absence of public understanding about the essential need for energy, in the midst of confusion about our operations, in a climate charged with environmental fears, the most carefully planned of our efforts to resolve the energy crisis" can prove unsuccessful.

Odds favor AEC 3,000,000 to 1

If you live near a nuclear power plant, the chances of being killed by a reactor accident are one in 300 million.

That compares with odds of one in two million of being hit by lighning and one in 4,000 of being involved in an automobile accident.

"The fact is that nuclear accident probabilities are so low that they are insignificant compared to the over-all risks due to other man-made and natural risks," according to the recently released draft report of a study commissioned by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The two-year, $3-million study is the most comprehensive ever made of nuclear power plant safety, says the AEC.

There are now about 50 commercial nuclear power plants in operation. There have been no accidents. About 100 reactors are expected to be working by 1980. On this basis, the study estimates the probability of a nuclear core melting and releasing radioactive materials as once every 175 years. But only one out of 10 potential core-melt accidents would have measurable health effects, and that would occur on the average of once every 17 centuries.

Such has been the extraordinary safety record of the nuclear industry that the two insurance pools which provide liability insurance for every utility-operated nuclear power reactor and all privately-operated research and development reactors in the United States have just made premium refunds of nearly $1.5 million.

Under the rating system used by the pools - the Nuclear Energy Liability Insurance Assn. (NELIA) and Mutual Atomic Energy Liability Underwriters (MAELU) -- about 70 per cent of the premiums received from insureds is placed in a loss reserve fund. If these funds are not utilized to pay losses, they are returned to the insureds after a period of 10 years.

In the last eight years, NELIA and MAELU have made premium refunds of more than $6.5 million.

According to spokesmen for the pools, the latest refund is "an expression of confidence in the safety of nuclear installations."

Since the beginning of their operation in 1957, neither pool has ever received a claim arising from the operation of a nuclear reactor. This safety record, they note, is without parallel in other industries.

TIRED OF IT

It's about this time of year when I begin to get tax statements from the city and county that I start thinking of income tax paying time and I begin to wonder where all the money will come from to pay my taxes.

Of course, being on a salary, most of the income tax has been claimed and deducted. It's in filing out the forms that I realize they took such a large chunk of money. While I'm in this mood someone comes along and looks over the $304 billion federal budget and tells me how they have spent my hard earned dollars.

The month I was ten days late with the house payment was probably the time my income tax money was part of the $6,000 Congress voted to spend to study the bisexual behavior of Polish frogs. When I was trying to get enough together to pay for my son's books in college they voted to spend $375,000 to determine if Frisbees might be used to carry flares.

It must have been the week the garbage collectors were on strike that Congress spent the $70,000 to conduct research on the smell of perspiration for Australian aborigines.

There's $121,000 in the budget to find out why so many Americans say "ain't". And there's another $203,979 to establlish travelers' aid centers for migrants who get lost on the Los Angeles freeways.

Then we have the $46,000 for compiling a dictionary on witchcraft; $5,000 to study American and Indian whistling ducks. A study of the habits of wild boars in Pakistan will cost $35,000. The $85,000 to assess the impact of rural road construction in Poland isn't a Polish joke — it's in the budget.

I don't know of anything the Congress has done the past few years that doesn't cost money. Now they want to up the income tax to fight inflation. The idea is that the government can spend my money better than I can. One thing is for certain — they sure can spend it faster. I don't know who contributes more to inflation — me, trying to pay the grocery bill or Congress playing with the Frisbees they're buying with my money. Hopefully, my Congressman understands the system. It's a cinch I don't.

One of the candidates campaigning for votes said we have to pay some folks more money for working less and pay the folks who won't work at all more than they could make working. He thought I was crazy when I suggested we take all those who won't work and put them in the experiment on the Los Angeles freeway and when they get lost, just leave 'em. If they want to smell sweat up there in Washington, they ought to come over to my house around the first of the month when I'm trying to pay the bills. It'll beat anything they can find down there in Australia.

I'd like for someone up there in Congress to tell me of one bill they have passed in the past five years to save me some money. Any kind of fool can spend money and the Congress is in a class all by itself. Every other bill Congress passes increases their own salaries or adds a few thousand more for them to spend running their offices.

There's some kind of aid program for everything and everyone except me — the poor slob paying the bill.

You wanna know something I'm getting kinda tired of it, too.— Bill Bray, Manager, Missouri Press Assn.

TRUTH ABOUT SOCIAL SECURITY

The recent ominous report by the trustees of the Social Security System on its financial status will hopefully force the Congress and the American people to take a more critical look at this program.

For years, the American public has been led to believe that Social Security is a fiscally sound "contributory" system of "insurance" for old age but, hopefully, this will change now. And surely when the commissioner of Social Security admits that the financing of the system must be changed significantly in coming years in order to avoid bankruptcy, the time has come for serious reappraisal and revision of its flaws.

We have spoken out before about the "semantic dishonesty" which has been used to sell the Social Security program to the public. It is high time that a number of myths about Social Security are set to rest. regardless of what we have been led to believe:

1--Social Security is not an annuity program. Retirement benefits are not necessarily related to contributions made. For example, a family in which the husband and wife worked usually receives the same benefits as a family in which the wife did not work, despite the fact that the working wife also paid Social Security taxes.

--Social Security payments are not "contributions;" they are compulsory "taxes."

--Although Social Security is based upon a moral commitment between generations, there is no legal guarantee that benefits will be paid to future generations, particularly if the "trust fund" does not remain solvent.

We have pointed out before that the burden of Social Security taxes upon the American wage earner and his family is becoming intolerable. More than half of all families now pay more in Social Security taxes than in Federal personal income taxes.

If the trend toward "zero population growth" continues and if inflation remains unchecked (thus automatically triggering increases in Social Security benefits , it becomes obvious that a proportionately smaller work force will be called upon to finance greater and greater benefits for an increasing number of retirees.

No pious platitudes about the system's "fiscal integrity" or sermons about how well it has worked in the past can change the fact that the demands on the system in 1975, 1985, 1995 and beyond are going to be greater and different than they were when Social Security began nearly 40 years ago.

One of the major changes that should be made (despite the opposition of some segments of organized labor) is the earnings limitation test as means of forcing and keeping older workers out of the labor force. This would relieve the immediate squeeze of inflation on many people trying to live on Social Security benefits only.

H.L. Hunt

CURBING AMERICANS

Apparently the only thing that opinion-molders can think of to do in fighting inflation and shortages is to curb good citizens instead of curbing the inflation and the shortages. This is because they can only think of political solutions to economic problems. And the only political solution to an economic problem is for the politicians and bureaucrats to get out of the way.

Americans are not accustomed to shortages, at least in peacetime. This is because we still enjoy the vestiges of the free market, profit-motive system which made this small area and this small population produce almost as much as all the rest of the world combined.

The free market solves shortages in the only two ways possible: by increasing production and by increasing the hope of reward for producing the "right" goods and services. In the free market, or relatively free market, the customers decide what are the "right" goods and services. A tiny rise in price is sufficient signal to wise producers that the public wants more of some item or service. The wise producer sets about to fill that public demand.

That is the way economic problems are solved. Throwing laws or tax dollars at economic problems solves nothing. Laws only curb producers and taxes take away money needed to finance production of needed items. Let's stop curbing good citizens and start curbing the people-controllers who are ruining the greatest Republic ever built by the mind and hand of man. H.L.H.

WASHINGTON - There was an era, not too long ago, when our cities "were for burning." In one year, 1967, huge fires lit bloodied streets, 85 persons died in riots, 3,200 people were badly injured as violence swept over the slithery gutters -- and property damage ran to $100 million.

And not long afterwards, the nation's campuses erupted. Flames. Explosions. Rioting. Seizures of university buildings and mauling of of faculties. In the first eight months of 1969 -- damage ran to $9 million on college grounds alone. There were deaths and severe injuries.

Thus, to rush to the need of the times -- and remember that in one year revolutionaries killed 13 police -- the FBI updated and expanded its Counterintelligence Program now known as "Cointelpro" The FBI delved into hate groups, terrorists, revolutionists, white and black. And into the subculture conspirators some now underground and some still violence prone, operating openly.

Now thanks to the incaution of Attorney General Saxbe the impression extant is that the FBI went in for dirty tricks. This is an overreaction to the shoddiness of Watergateism.

Before anyone rushes in where Saxbe doesn't fear to tread, one should examine again the nature of internal and international terrorism, radical dissidents (justifying "people's" court executions of judges here and abroad, for example) and avowed revolutionism.

Look, for example, at what the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) has been doing with its new security regulations. This must be distinguished from the weapons side of the commission.

There .n ow are some 600 private industrial and educational AEC licensees. Of these almost 100 have enough SNM (special nuclear material to warrant special protective regulations. For SNM has been in their corporate and institutional possession, and has been shipped in sufficient quantity to be stolen easily and an atomic bomb constructed juast as easily.

Further, the AEC foresees the spreading use of plutonium into the fuel cycle in ever greater quantities. Today, I'm told, there is one, perhaps two plants which use this material. Mostly used is uranium. But this nation is in the throes of Project Independence. Today there are some 53 or 54 atomic power plants. In less than a decade there will be between 200 and 240 such energy depots.

So the problem of shipping plutonium and other SNM quantities safely -- not only from the viewpoint of radiation but from the need of security from robbery -- has bec intense. The AEC is anticipating steadi SNM movments in ever increasing amounts an distances.

Its security people, now head by Maj. Gen. Frederic Davison new Director of the AEC Divisio of Safeguards and Security contemplated uneasily the recen terrorist seizure of the British aircraft by what even the Palestine Liberation Organization considers "crazies."

And they have asked themselves -- what if sufficient SNM were stolen in any fashion from within, or without a plant, during shipment or storage to make a bomb? And some terrorists, revolutionaries by any name, or blackmailers hold, not a plane but a city as hostage?

At least one governmental group says that terrorists abroad have Soviet-built "Strellas," a 32 pound missile which can be launched from a big man shoulder. They say they believe such missiles have been used to bring down aircraft. I can't prove this. But I can vouch for the fact it was told to me on high authority

What if this Strella is fitted with a small do-it-yourself atomic bomb?

There is reason to believe terrorists have given much thought to all this and the political ransom such an operation could extort.

Certainly the AEC's new regulations now call for specially protected convoys of plutonium shipments. Special armed carriers. Specially designed trailers. Cars protecting the SNM carrier. Armed guards to escor all air and sea SNM shipments. And only on U.S. registered carriers. Rail shipments accompanied by five armed guards Etc.

But it is much more conforting to know that Clarence Kelley's FBI men are infiltrating terrorists and revolutionary groups, keeping them under surveillance and perhaps bugging them in more ways than one. And also, could be, using some form of Cointelpro.

There is an FBI-AEC liaison system. The bureau could report swiftly any terrorist decision to target an SNM shipment, or a power plant or atomic "warehouses." Who wants a city or a skyscraper held for ransom A captive aircraft on an isolated runway is enough.

So there's a need for FBI counteraction. Today's Marxists aren't (repeat, aren't) Norman Thomas-type Socialists with a volume of "Das Kapital" in one hand and a girl in the other. And, says a high FBI spokesman, "We welcome constant oversight (inspection) to prevent any abuse of the authority given us."

Let's have some realism. These are explosive times.

Spies Who Came In From The Cold

WASHINGTON - Somewhere in the Western world at this moment reside two men whose routine lives disguise their shadowy pasts in the netherworld of espionage. One is probably a journalist, the other a lawyer.

They are spies who came in from the cold. Their tale is one of double lives, torture and a spectacular jailbreak engineered by the CIA. In the interest of their personal safety, we have decided not to identify them by name.

In 1969, the two men -- one a Scotsman, the other an Englishman -- were leading what appeared to be normal lives in the white supremacist nation of Rhodesia. One was an editor for the Rhodesia Herald in Salisbury, the second an attorney in private practice.

At the time, the government of Prime Minister Ian Smith had been declared an outlaw by the United Nations and the rest of the world was ostensibly refusing to trade with them. In truth, businessmen from several nations were secretly violating the economic blockage against Rhodesia.

The journalist and the lawyer were recruited by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency to pass on information about the embargo breakers. As they pursued their professions, they also gathered documents and data, and dropped it off in mail boxes at a post office in the suburbs of Salisbury.

The journalist's information, according to our sources, made its way to a man named Paul O'Neill, the U.S. consul general in Salisbury at the time. The lawyer's papers eventually wound up on the desk of a U.S. consular officer in South Africa named I. L. Smith.

Smith, say our CIA sources, was an agency case officer. We have secured the diplomatic lists, but the mysterious Mr. Smith has apparently dropped out of sight.

Eventually, the Rhodesian police began to notice the strange comings and goings of the two secret agents. The "spooks" were followed and photographed, their documents intercepted. They were arrested.

While imprisoned, according to our CIA sources, the journalist and the lawyer were mercilessly beaten and tortured, and the details of their clandestine lives were slowly drawn from them.

They were tried behind closed doors and convicted of violating Rhodesia's Official Secrets Act and other regulations. On Dec. 12, 1969, the journalist was sentenced to 18 months at hard labor. The attorney drew four years on the rock pile.

The United States, meanwhile, was seriously considering the withdrawal of its consulate in Salisbury. Prime Minister Smith, in desperate need of official recognition, wanted the United States to stay. With this bargaining chip, Washington managed to negotiate the release of one spy, who was delivered to the airport while allegedly en route to prison.

The Rhodesians, however, stubbornly refused to give up the other. The CIA, say our sources, freed him by staging a daring jailbreak, then whisked him off to a new life in another land.

Footnote: The CIA refused to comment on our story. Paul O'Neill, now the State Department's "country director" for South Africa, was travelling in Africa when we called and could not be reached.

SCIENTIFIC DRUNKS: Alcoholics desperately seeking treatments have been used as guinea pigs for government-funded experiments in which doctors dose them with more booze in the name of science.

The hospitals used for the experiments are frequently advertised as "treatment" centers. Yet, our investigation shows that once inside, the vulnerable and distressed alcoholic may be asked whether we wants to "volunteer" for an experimental program in which he will get still more liquor.

Susceptible to any suggestion, many agree and some are even paid to go back to tippling. Then they are given varying quantities of alcohol to see how it affects them. In the end, they may be dried out and treated without alcohol.

We have found programs being carried out by doctors from such famed institutions as the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, Brooklyn's Downstate Medical Center and New York's Payne Whitney Clinic. Similar experiments have been conducted at Veterans's Administrations facilities and other hospitals.

Alcoholic patients seeking help were paid as "volunteers" and given controlled amounts of alcohol for four to six days.

Dr. Gross and others ably defend both the history and necessity of such experiments. Gross feels the participants are helped in the long run because "it gives themn a sense of worth which often helps with their future recovery."

But many doctors feel that any additional alcohol is damaging to an alcoholic, particularly to his liver. The consensus is that the only way for a true alcoholic to stop drinking is to "leave the stuff alone" completely.

Some doctors also question the ethics of human guinea pig techniques and recommend instead use of baboons or other manlike animals. But this runs afoul of animal lovers who are outraged when baboons, which are sober by nature, are turned into lushes.

Sociable Insect

Unlike many of its cousins who live solitary lives, the Vespula pensylvanica (wasp), is a social insect that thrives in colonies. It is one of the paper-building family of wasps and hornets who build communal nests from chewed wood pulp mixed with saliva.

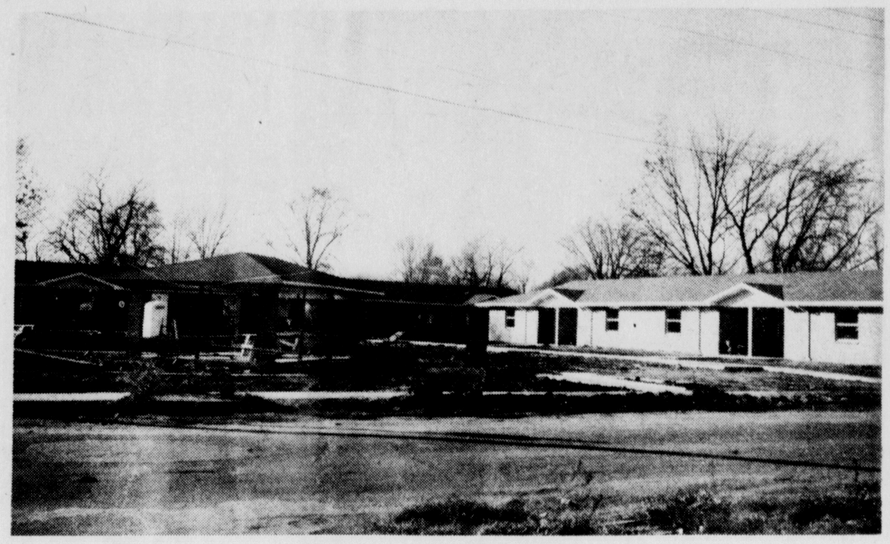
Housing units almost ready

Ten single- bedroom public housing units designed for the elderly, located at the corner of First and Huffman streets in Portageville, are near completion. The building at the right contains four units, and the rear building has six. In the left foreground is a covered pavilion. Grading and landscaping of the grounds and some interior painting and cleanup work are expected to be finished within the next two weeks.



Shrubbery is planted

Shrubbery and trees are being planted at 25 new public housing family units in Portageville currently in the final stages of construction. The modern, brick, all-electric units are on an adjoining site south of Portage Village, a 50-unit public housing development that opened in 1970. (Daily Standard photo)

Public housing near completion

PORTAGEVILLE — Construction is neary complete on 35 new public housing units scheduled to be ready for occupancy by Jan. 1.

Work is expected to be completed by Dec. 15 at both the family and senior citizen unit sites, according to Q. T. Quertermous, construction foreman for Ralph Boyer Construction Co. of Sikeston, contractor for the $794,873 turnkey project funded by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

A 25-family housing complex, consisting of 20 two-bedroom units and five three-bedroom units, adjoins Portage Village, a 50- unit public housing development on Huffman Road which opened in 1970.

Ten single-bedroom units designed for the elderly are located on a tract at the corner of First and Huffman streets.

Mrs. Ellen Milem, public housing site manager, said there isn't much doubt that the units will be fully occupied because there is a waiting list of 200 prospective renters.

Rental applications are being processed, and Mrs. Milem suggested that if any applications already on file need to be revised or updated, this should be done by the applicants since the units will be rented to those who first applied.

Rental fees will vary, she explained, based on the family income and the number of persons in the family.

Construction started in April and has proceeded at a steady pace, despite a setback when a fire on Aug. 3 — attributed to — arson leveled six of the senior citizen units and damaged the other four.

Microwave ovens intensify flavors

COLUMBIA — To find out if the Russians were right about more "intense" food flavors coming from microwave cooking and to learn more about the nutrient value of these fast-cooked foods, University of Missouri food scientists have been awarded a $35,000 research grant by the National Institute of Health.

Dr. Ruth E. Baldwin and Mrs. Bernice M. Korschgen will compare conventionally cooked foods with those foods cooked via microwave.

"We'll look at the differences in nitrogen-containing compounds that might relate to flavor," said Dr. Baldwin.

"Russian researchers say microwave cooked food has a more intense meat flavor because of creatine, a nonprotein nitrogen compound. We'll want to check this and other nitrogen compounds to see if there is any interaction that affects flavor."

Dr. Baldwin recently fed creatine to 52 people and asked them for a reaction. Sixty- five per cent said it was bitter; the rest had mixed reactions ("sour," "sweet," "salty," etc.).

"We'll have to run more tests to find out just what effect this compound has on flavor," said Dr. Baldwin.

She noted that microwave is the fastest cooking method known -- two to five times faster than conventional cooking. And its popularity has been increasing rapidly.

In 1970, there were 60,000 microwave ovens in the U.S. By 1973, the number had jumped to 375,000. Some forecasters expect over five million ovens in the United States by 1977 -- or about eight per cent of the total market. But Dr. Baldwin thinks the estimate is conservative.

"I expect that at least one- fourth of all the cooking in the United States will be by microwave units by 1976," she said. "These ovens are becoming competitively priced, and they can save up to 50 to 75 per cent of the energy used by conventional ovens."

Grain market

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures were strong in early dealings on the Chicago Board of Trade today, but grain prices were mixed.

On the opening, soybeans were ½ to 7 cents a bushel higher, January 7.87; Chicago wheat was 4½ lower to 1 higher, December 4.86; corn was unchanged to 3 higher, December 3.65 and oats were unchanged to 1½ lower.

Christmas stocking stuffers

Looking for small gifts for stocking stuffers? Here are some ideas to start your thinking.

For the baby — a rattle, a cloth book, perhaps a pull toy if he's toddling, a pretty shirt that he can wear for "company."

For little brother — coloring books and non-toxic crayons or felt tip pens, new accessories for his train set, a license plate for his bicycle with his name spelled out.

For big brother — a magnetized change holder for the dashboard of his car, some "way-out" aftershave, or a T-shirt sporting a funny slogan.

Model plane and ship builders will thank you for sandpaper, turpentine, glue, paint brushes, threaders, clamps, rubber bands and clips.

Would-be writers will appreciate a typewriter ribbon, a ream of paper, a box of carbon paper.

Vitamin pills supply only known nutrients

By L.M. HURSH
National Dairy Council Consultant

It's surprising how some of the same questions keep popping up when people ask about nutrition. Probably it's because there are certain basics about which people would like to be well informed. And often our understanding can be confused by the wealth of misinnformation that is available almost daily.

So here are some questions I'm most asked:

Q. If I take a vitamin and mineral capsule daily, can't I eat whatever I want and come out all right?

A. This lacks sense because you could still eat too little protein, or get too much fat or carbohydrate- or not enough fat, or whatever. Vitamins and minerals, in other words, simply do not by themselves balance your diet.

There may also be vitamins and minerals in food that we have not yet discovered. Pills can only give you what we know about, whereas food will give you not only what we know is in it, but nature's secrets as well.

Q. Is a calorie a nutrient?

A. Not in the usual sense. I know we all talk about getting enough calories at the same time that we talk about getting, say enough protein. But a calorie is a unit of energy, no more. Vitamins and minerals by themselves do not give you calories. Calories come only from protein, fat and carbohydrates, and the calories you get from these sources are merely a measure of the fuel-giving contribution of those nutrients.

Q. But don't we store calories in our bodies?

A. Only in the sense that your body is itself made of protein, fat, carbohydrate, water and other nutrients. So, to the extent that your body possesses protein, fat and carbohydrate- and especially if you are overweight

COCKFIGHTER
by Charles Willeford
A Movie Tie-in Book
20459 - $1.50
Fiction

COCKFIGHTER has been made into a motion picture starring Warren Oates as the man who is obsessed with cockfighting It will be distributed nationally this fall.

Here is the full portrait of the world of the cockfighter -- the competitiveness, risk-taking, and brutality that surround him in the pit. COCKFIGHTER brilliantly portrays a dedicated professional cockfighter whose destiny rises and falls on the crest of an ever-beckoning triumph and who single-mindedly persues it, to the exclusion of all else -- including the girl who loves him but hates his sport, and the beautiful widow who tempts and attracts him.

"A superb piece of writing ... original and powerful." Seattle Times

THE AMAZING WORLD OF KRESKIN
by Kreskin
19035 - $1.50
Non-fiction

In a seance-like setting, 20 members of the audience sit around five tables in groups of four. Kreskin -- through the brainpowers of the 20 people -- makes the five tables tremble, rise off the floor, and turn over.

In THE AMAZING WORLD OF KRESKIN, Kreskin tells graphically how he perceives a thought; how it arrives, telepathically, in his mind. He contends that most people are prone to suggestibility, that he has the "Power of suggestion." And, he drops some information on how to tilt tables, achieve automatic writing -- even a handy way to beat the blackjacks at Vegas!

Along with relating his developments as a "mentalist", Kreskin takes a sharp but humorous knife to deal with mystic arts and the occult.

Kreskin is the star of his own syndicated television show, as well as a frequent guest on all the major network television shows. He lectures extensively.

As emperor, Haile Selassie of Ethiopia occupied the world's oldest throne and headed a dynasty that traced its origins to the Queen of Sheba and King Solomon.

Ann Landers

Young child falls into toilet bowl

Dear Ann Landers: I don't know how you can reword this to make it fit to print but I'm counting on you. I just can't say it any other way. I'll bet many women had this problem and I'd like to tell them how I solved it.

When Mr. Absent-Minded used the toilet, he could never remember to put the seat down. Frequently our five-year-old would get up in the middle of the night to use the bathroom and the poor kid always fell in. She would then come into our room (looking like a drowned rat), awaken me from a sound sleep, and I'd have to change her into dry pajamas.

Finally I bought some contact paper and cut out letters that spelled the following message: "IT'S NICE TO HAVE A MAN AROUND THE HOUSE." I glued the slogan to the bottom of the seat. Now my husband puts the seat down every time.--Victorious

Ear Vic: Thanks for sharing your "solution." I have an alternative. A five-year old girl is old enough to learn how to check a toilet seat before she sits down and falls in..

Dear Ann: You printed a letter from a mother who was broken-hearted because she had done everything for her children but "they went wrong." She sounds like MY mother. After all, I wear those "terrible britches" when decent women wear skirts. I was a change-of-life baby and I guess when my mother was young most decent women DID wear dresses. But styles change.

She deplores the fact that, at 23, I share an apartment with two girls. Girls who didn't live at home until they married (in her day) were considered "loose."

What galls mother most is that I am not married. "You date lots of nice boys (not men, mind you, BOYS), so why don't you marry one?" The fact that I'm not in love doesn't matter. I should get married anyway.

If a night goes by and I don't call her, she calls ME --to make sure I'm sleeping home.

Mother doesn't realize that my life can't be a carbon copy of hers. And because of this it's gotten so I don't want to see or talk to her. Any Advice?--Flip Side Of The Coin

Dear Flip: Start by reducing the phone calls to every other night. Tell her "Don't call me, I'll call you." And be firm about it.

Listen politely to her views, then do as you please. A woman of 23 is old enough to run her own life.

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is my boss. I'm attracted to him mentally and physically and it's getting more difficult to conceal my feelings every day. Mr. T.D. & H (Tall, Dark and Handsome) is divorced and sought after by many women. (A secretary knows these things.) He is semi-rich and several years my senior.

How should I let him know I care? Or would I be making a fool of myself? I'm not sure he'd be responsive. Yet I'd hate to miss out on this great catch by being too shy. Maybe he's crazy about me and afraid to show it.

Please give me some advice on what to do--and how. When I'm in a room with this man for more than fifteen minutes my eyeglasses get steamed up. Sign me--The Shrinking Violet

Dear Vi: If T.D.&H. were interested in you, you'd know it. His glasses would steam up. My advice is get another job.

Are drugs O.K. if you learn how to control them? Can they be of help? The answers are in Ann Lander's new booklet, "Straight Dope on Drugs." For each booklet ordered, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (20 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Meetings

TUESDAY

The Sikeston Woman's Civic Club will have a potluck lunch at noon in the First United Methodist Church. The Sikeston High School Modern Chorale will provide the program.

Substitute mothers discuss proper day child care

The women meet each month in one of the day-care homes, along with Mrs. Deanna Long, the day care licensing worker from the Scott county welfare office.

They discuss together their problems and how to cope with situations that arise in tending young children. They also show films and have guest speakers.

The term day care refers to an arrangement in which a child spends a portion of his day away from home.

Proper day care provides warmth and concern and is geared to taking care of each child's needs. For instance, he should be served a hot, balanced meal, along with morning and afternoon snacks and have a nap or quiet time and organized play. The latter may consist of arts and crafts, painting, cutting and water experiences, dancing and other forms of activity.

In summer time, supervised outdoor play and learning experiences with children of the same age level are important.

Homes visited by the licensed day care worker must meet certain qualifications, such as a certain amount of space for each child if the family agrees to share the home. A fire inspection is made, medical information regarding the applicant and her family is obtained and regular supervisory visits are made by the licensing personnel.

At the meeting Tuesday night, Mrs. Long circulated a folder containing many helpful booklets on such things as toy safety, food and money, rescue breathing techniques to save a life, child safety and first aid for the family.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

It's been several months since President Ford prescribed that Americans "bite the bullet" in an effort to stop inflation.

Naturally, we've tried to instill in our children the sense of urgency regarding the nation's economy, but we get the same light-hearted, devil-may-care flippancy, "Nonsense. There's still the wrought iron fence."

Let me explain about the wrought iron fence. It is sixty feet long, five feet high, encompasses our back yard, and is held together by rust.

Several years ago when one of the boys was desperate for money for a new tennis racket we said to him, "Paint the wrought iron fence."

He looked at us like we had just suggested he eject himself over the Snake River on a tricycle.

"Do you know how long that would take?"

"Making allowances for phone calls, changing your radio dial, entertaining visitors, and cleaning up after you, conservatively speaking, about eight years," I said.

"I'll work until I've painted enough for a new racket," he said.

During the years to follow, the wrought iron fence has become a symbol for their entire economy. They have grown up with that fence. When they were younger and needed money to replace a science textbook they had lost, they headed for the fence. If they wanted a new record album, concert tickets, money for a movie, they slapped a few more drops of paint on the fence.

In more recent years the fence has grown in stature. It is not unusual to see one of them out there for as long as a day and a halfworking for a stereo component. One night I saw one of them working by moonlight for money for this insurance premium for his car.

The wrought iron fence is a monument to the capitalistic system and serves as a constant reminder that he who paints, prospers...and he who dawdles stays home Saturday night.

Yesterday, one of my sons came into the kitchen, his face ashen as he clutched a coffee can full of black paint and a brush. "The fence!" he shouted,

"IT'S FINISHED! SOMEONE FINISHED THE FENCE!"

We all sat there numbly for a moment while the impact of his words penetrated. "What'll we do now?" he asked sullenly.

"Bite the bullet," I said.

My other son looked up. "Couldn't we paint it first?"

State hosts Republican Governors

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The nation's Republican governors were warned by one of the most successful GOP state chairmen today that "we got clobbered" in last months' elections and that "the road back is a hard one" that will take many years.

Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan issued a statement declaring unless the Republicans adopt the strategy of reaching out to new voters, "the party we represent will itself be dead."

The warnings by Milliken and William McLaughlin, his state's GOP chairman, came as Republican governors launched their post-election conference here with speeches and a panel discussion on the state of the party and its future.

The meeting is the first since the already dimished ranks of GOP governors dwindled even further last month. Republicans will control only 13 of 50 state governorships next year, compared with 18 before the election and 32 just five years ago.

McLaughlin declared, "We must acknowledge that we are a minority party," adding that "for too many years we have deluded ourselves into the false security that electing a President will make the Republican party the majority party nationally.

"When we have elected a President and more than half of the members of the Senate and the House and better than 50 per cent of the governors and the state legislators, and when more than 20 or 21 per cent of the people identified with us, then and only then can we begin to consider majority status," he said.

McLaughlin told the governors they are "an indispensable ingredient in any recipe" for rebuilding the GOP, saying Republicans must take the lead in fighting for "open government and open campaigns" as Milliken did to win reelection in Michigan.

The Michigan chairman said the GOP must reshape its image and broaden its appeal by actions that show women, young people and minorities "that the GOP is their home."

His views on the need for a broadened GOP base echoed those expressed by a number of governors in statements and interviews as they gathered in this snowy Mississippi River city.

Iowa Gov. Robert G. Ray declared, "We must open up and encourage participation in this party by people of various ages, ethnic backgrounds and diverse views." Massachussetts Gov. Francis W. Sargent said the GOP has been "an exclusive club for too long."

Milliken, who will be one of just two Republican governors in the nation's 10 largest states, told a reporter at Sunday night's reception at the Gateway Arch that "the party has a great future" but we're going to have broaden our base."

Later Sunday night, he issued a statement declaring that any strategy rejecting that view "is not only morally wrong but also politically stupid."

Milliken also declared that the sooner Republicans accept the scope of their Nov. 5 defeat, "put it behind us and move aggressively toward reconstruction, the healthier it will be for the party as a whole and the nation as a whole."

Earlier Sunday, Dunn told reporters that President Ford should look "very carefully" at an increase in the gasoline tax in order to reduce U.S reliance on Middle Eastern oil.

He said the federal government will have to compel the American public "to be without a certain amount of fuel" but said any increase in the gas tax should be accompanied by rebates to those who have low incomes or use their cars for work.

Dunn conceded that politically "it would be extremely tough" but added, "A President has got to be willing in these days to make the hard decisions and to worry about his popularity as a secondary factor."

Dunn's comments received little support from other early arrivals.

"I don't think a tax on gasoline is a viable proposal," said Bond. Milliken said he felt it would further hurt the automobile industry, while Bennett said he feared it would hurt the poor.

What's the law?

By: JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

Mario was a professional singer who owed his fortune to his rich voice. Consequently, if he could have kept it in a safe-deposit box without inconveniencing himself, that's exactly where he would have kept it.

Not feasible, however, so he did the next best thing. He all but lived in the office of his throat-specialist doctor who kept his voice in tip-top condition. And he deducted the cost of the doctor's treatments from his income taxes as a business expense.

"They sure are in my case," was Mario's answer. "If I was a professional saxophone player, the cost of keeping my sax in shape would be deductible as a business expense. Since my voice is my instrument, the cost of keeping it in shape is similarly deductible."

The dispute ended up in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit Mario to deduct his medical bills as a business expense?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that, under the tax law, money expended for diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body, are medical expenses. Thus, concluded the judge, while Mario may deduct the cost of his throat treatments as a medical expense, he may not deduct them as a business expense.

(Based upon a 1971 Internal Revenue Service Decision.)

Highlights and sidelights

Session may be long

JEFFERSON CITY -- Some legislators are dismally predicting the current special session of the General Assembly may run until Christmas and, perhaps, past it.

The Senate's failure to approve a usury bill on its first attempt and Gov. Christopher S. Bond's belated introduction of a new age of majority law into the session's agenda are seen as the primary reasons for a longer than expected session.

Only one bill had been passed by either house when the special session recessed for the Thanksgiving holiday last week. That was an $18.2 million appropriations bill which was approved by the House on Nov. 25.

The usury bill, a Senate Banking Committee substitute, was defeated by a 16-9 vote on the Senate floor.

In its original form, the Senate's usury bill agreed with Gov. Bond on the amount of increase in the interest rate limit (from eight to 10 per cent) and on elimination of all but two points. Points are fees charged by lenders to cover expenses of making loans and, generally, are equal to 1 per cent of the loan. But the committee substitute bill dropped all mention of points and added sections which would have alnnlowed credit unions and small loan companies to charge higher rates of interest.

Blackwell also was able to get an amendment limiting the number of points which lenders can charge on a loan to only two and putting a penalty clause for violation of the act back into the bill.

Senate Banking Committee chairman A. M. Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, said another bill will be brought out to the Senate to replace the defeated substitute bill. But Blackwell made it clear during Senate debate he thinks the defeated substitute bill, as amended, is the best the legislature will come up with.

And other Senators have expressed their disfavor with any increase of the interest rates. An increase, Sen. Maurice Schechter, D-Creve Coeur, said, would be "pouring gasoline on the raging fires of inflation."

House Speaker Richard J. Rabbitt, D-St. Louis, said sentiment exists in the House for a limit on points, but House opinion is divided on consumer protection and other elements of the bill.

Bond's proposals for consumer protection are to require reports from loan companies and other financial institutions and give the Division of Finance further authority to regulate the money markets.

Spradling has expressed his dislike for Bond's consumer protection suggestions, and they were not in the substitute bill which Spradling's banking committee approved.

Some compromises will eventually occur, but since neither house has passed a bill, legislators are uncertain about what they will have to work with.

Bond's inclusion of a new age of majority law into the special session call was broad enough to include a complete revision of the law. But the governor urged the legislature to take action only on marriages, real estate transactions, contracts and notary public qualifications.

Four bills carrying Bond's specific recommendations have been introduced in the Senate, with Senate minority floor leader A. Clifford Jones, R-Brentwood, handling all four. Jones was the author of the original age of majority law, which was struck down by the state Supreme Court on Nov. 12.

The price tag for the special session will be $369,194, according to the appropriations bill passed by the House. Appropriations will be spent on secretarial help, supplies, mileage expenses and per diem payments to legislators.

Absenteeism has not been a problem, as was feared earlier by Bond. Senate attendance in the first two weeks of the special session has been above 80 per cent, and the House attendance has been above 90 per cent.

A total of 49 senators and representatives eligible for the special session will not be back when the regular session convenes in January.

Jury finds man guilty of killing dog

BLOOMFIELD — Leo Yancer of Advance was found guilty Wednesday and fined $10 for killing one dog and wounding another during a trial in Stoddard County Magistrate Court. The dog killed was a beagle hound owned by Herbert Loughary, and the wounded dog was owned by Beverly Shepard, both of rural Advance.

Loughary testified that he witnessed the shooting of Mrs. Shepard's dog and, upon investigating, discovered his own dog dead near the Yancer home. When asked why he had killed his dog, Loughary said Yancer replied that he didn't know the dog was his and said he would get him another one.

Yancer admitted shooting the dogs and stated that they often got into his trash, barked at his wife, chased his cats, ate his cat food and were general pests.

Yancer's attorney maintained that, under a Missouri law, a dog or dogs caught chasing a domesticated animal could be shot by the animal's owner.

The prosecuting attorney stated that no evidence had been presented that the dogs were chasing the cats at the time of the shooting.

Judge Koss Blomeyer ruled that even though dogs can be terrible pests, there is a law against shooting dogs, and said Yancer was guilty by his own admission. He further stated that the law mentioned by the defense attorney was intended for livestock.

The judge rejected the prosecuting attorney's recommendation that Yancer make restitution and fined him $10 and costs.

In other cases, a disturbing the peace charge was dismissed against Mary M. Edwards of Bloomfield following testimony in a court trial. Ms. Edwards had been accused of disturbing the peace of Charles Edwards, her former husband, while he was visiting his mother's home in Bloomfield.

Preliminary hearing was set on Dec. 5 for Jimmy Midkiff of Poplar Bluff on a charge of obtaining a controlled drug by assuming the role of a doctor. Bond was set at $2,000.

Dennis Gott of Dudley was given a 30-day jail sentence after pleading guilty to chopping the trunk of his sister's automobile with an ax.

Trial was set on Dec. 5 for Calvin Leroy Adams, Charles Dewey Sissom and Truman Eugene Medley of Sikeston, who are charged with the felonious burning of an Essex house. Bond was set at $2,000 each.

Preliminary hearing was set on Dec. 12 for William M. Beck on five counts of tampering with a motor vehicle.

Robert Carl Maddox was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence for common assault against his former wife.

Trial of Joe Lloyd Trask was set on Dec. 5 after he pleaded not guilty to a charge of careless and imprudent driving.

Clifford T. Manlove of Dexter was fined $5 for taking a protected game bird out of season.

Smith wins district FB speaking event

EAST PRAIRIE — Eric Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and a sophomore at East Prairie High School, has been declared the winner of this year's district Farm Bureau public speaking contest, after emerging victorious over five other area contestants.

The annual contest is sponsored by the Young Farmers branch of Farm Bureau. Each contestant was required to speak on the topic, "Farm Bureau Gives You More". The speeches were designed to inform farmers of the need to pull together into a farm organization such as Farm Bureau.

Smith now will compete in the state contest Saturday in Jefferson City against eight other district winners for cash prizes of $100, $50 and $25.

Mississippi county RSVP bylaws adopted

EAST PRAIRIE — Proposed bylaws for the Mississippi County Retired Senior Volunteer Program were adopted Nov. 19 by the advisory committee and committee chairmen were appointed by John Hopkins, advisory committee chairman.

Chairmen appointed included Joe Webb of East Prairie, finance committee; Mrs. Ethel Small of Wyatt, transportation committee, and Mrs. Elizabeth Brown of East Prairie, recognition and awards committee.

Terms of office for members of the advisory committee were set as follows: one year, Vearl Caid of Charleston, Barney Webster, Jack Barnhill and Mrs. Roxie DeField of East Prairie and Mrs. Ethel Small of Wyatt; two years, Mrs. Ida Davis and Dr. Randall Shurtz of East Prairie and Don Moxley of Bertrand; three years, Gerald McElrath, Elizabeth Brown and Joe Webb of East Prairie and John Hopkins and Ozie Adcock of Charleston.

Mrs. Betty Johnson, RSVP director, in reporting on program progress, said there are approximately 85 volunteers in the county at present, who served 778 hours during October.

It was announced that a building on Washington Drive in East Prairie, formerly occupied by Lloyd's Grocery, will be the location of a Thrift Shop made available by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DeField, owners of the building. Display tables have been loaned for the shop by Ray Lewis, and Joe Webb has provided a gas stove. Utility companies also assisted the program by installing meters free of charge.

Mrs. Johnson informed the committee that application for funds for the local program from the federal government is due in January. Hopkins volunteered to assist Mrs. Johnson in writing the proposal.

14 arrested

The arrest list included:

Mary Jane Parden, 306 Kendall St., maintaining a public nuisance; Lester Leroy Pease of Sikeston, driving while intoxicated; Earnest Edgar Finney of Morehouse and Leon Smart and Albert Smart of St. Louis, public intoxication; Johnny Wayne Davison, Route Three, assault and battery.

N. G. Crumpecker Jr. of Morehouse, driving while intoxicated and carrying a concealed weapon; Gary Lee Mize of Oran Route One, operating a motor vehicle with improper tail lights; Herschel Alexander Vernon of Fisk Route One and Charles Allen Irwin, 709 E. Gladys St., careless and imprudent driving.

Jimmy Pegue, 228 Westgate St., failing to obey a reasonable request of a police officer; Ted Ray of 411 Nelson, East Prairie, carteless and imprudent driving and destroying city property; Dorothy Tredwell of Marston, petit larceny and assault and battery; and Faye Mullin, Route Two, petit larceny.

The Washington Monument is the world's biggest sundial, the 555-foot obelisk pointing out the hour with its immense shadow swinging around time spokes shoveled through the winters' snows. As a timepiece, it would only be useful for tourists looking down from atop the monument.

Senate to try again on loan interest bill

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Senate planned to try again today to come up with a loan interest bill that will meet four basic requirements—contain some consumer safeguards, get the governor's signature, satisfy financial and real estate interests and be accepted by the House.

A bill opposed by financial interests was rejected last week after outgoing Sen. Earl Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, succeeded in attracting enough votes to restrict the number of points—fees charged to obtain a loan to two, and to eliminate an interest increase for small loan agencies. Blackwell got help from Maurice Schechter, D-Creve Coeur, and William Waters, D-Liberty, in revamping the bill.

The measure would have raised the interest for most loans from 8 to 10 per cent annually. Eight per cent is the lowest charged in the nation, and testimony has shown savings and loan institutions and mortgage bankers are reluctant to lend money at 8 per cent without use of points. There now is no restriction on points.

The Senate was to start work on a bill the governor supports. It removes the interest rate ceiling for home mortgages and restricts the points to only one point for an "origination fee," and one point if the lender has to improve or repair the property.

Amendments are expected from Sen. William Cason, D-Clinton, to allow five points, from Albert Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau, to set an interest of 15 per cent annually on loans between $500 and $2,500, and from Jack Gant, D-Independence, to raise the credit union interest rate from 12 to 15 per cent annually.

The small loan rate now is 26.6 Per cent annually for loans up to $500. The current rate above $500 is 8 per cent a year.

Gant and Spradling contend the credit unions and consumer finance companies are hurting just as much in the tight money market as real estate salesmen, the constrcution industry and savings and loan institutions.

Spradling is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee. Cason is the Senate president pro tem, and Gant, in the absence of Sen. Lawrence Lee, D-St. Louis, is the acting majority floor leader: Lee is taking it easy after a heart operation.

Blackwell, who also added a penalty clause before the bill was defeated, said, "We came up here on a pretense of curing the housing recession...Then everybody comes in for a bite of the ham sandwich."

Lobbying was intense all week, with the governor's aides lobbying the lobbyists to get them to compromise on a bill which is acceptable to Gov. Christopher S. Bond, namely, one that has a limitation on points.

With the lack of progress toward a compromise and the addition of several measures to change the majority age from 21 to 18, it appeared the special session would run to Christmas or beyond.

The House has passed an $18.2 Million appropriation bill to fund the special session, a new campaign disclosure law and welfare payments, and the Senate Appropriations Committee will begin considering those items tonight.

The Senate Judiciary Committee also was to begin considering today bills to lower the majority age to 18 for contracts of indebtedness, ability to buy real estate, marriage and ability to obtain a notary public's license.

The State Supreme Court declared a majority rights law unconstitutional because it did not amend the 130 or so majority rights statutes section by section.

The House won't resume work until next Monday, since it doesn't have anything before it to consider.

Snow hampers search for plane crash bodies

UPPERVILLE, Va. (AP) — Heavy snow hampered searchers resuming hheir grim hunt today for the bodies of 92 persons killed when a Trans World Airlines 727 slammed into an Appalachian foothill Sunday.

The chief investigator for the National Transportation Safety Board, Rudolf Kapustin, said 26 bodies were recovered from the crash site near here when searchers quit at 10 p.m. Sunday night.

Reporters on the scene said searchers found parts of 75 bodies early this morning and the cockpit flight recorder.

The instrument will tell investigators the plane's position moments before the crash and help determine the cause of the disaster.

The plane, TWA flight 514 bound for Washington from Indianapolis, Ind., and Columbus, Ohio, sheared off tree tops and slammed into a 10-foot-high rocky ledge near a top-secret government installation.

The three-jet plane disintegrated on impact, strewing bodies and burning wreckage over a wide area on the slope of Mt. Weather, a foothill of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The plane's tail section was found 100 yards below the summit.

John H. Reed, chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board, said it was impossible to say immediately what caused the crash.

TWA officials said relatives of the 85 passengers and seven crew members would be taken by bus today to a temporary morgue near the crash site to identify the remains.

The Mt. Weather crash was followed Sunday by the crash of a Northwest Orient Airlines 727 charter jet near Stony Point, N.Y. about 20 miles northwest of New York City. The plane carried three crewmen and no passengers and was on its way to Buffalo, N.Y., to pick up the Baltimore Colts football team. State police said there was no evidence of survivors.

15 accident patients treated

Fifteen accident patients were treated and released over the weekend in the emergency room at Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Eight treated Saturday were: Danny G. Morgan, 25, Charleston, injured in car accident; Rogers Banks, 25, Benton, injured in car accident; Belinda Milloway, 15, Sikeston, bruised left knee in car accident; Donald Milloway, 9, Sikeston, injured in car accident.

Fire destroys Essex home

DEXTER — The Dexter fire department received two fire calls over the weekend.

The William S. Williams home near Essex was destroyed by a fire that broke out at 5:33 p.m. Sunday.

Dexter Fire Chief Al Bankeen said the cause of the blaze has not been determined. However, the Stoddard County sheriff's department will conduct an investigation for possible arson.

Firemen were called to I.X.L. Manufacturing Co. at 6:52 p.m. Saturday when a sawdust pit caught fire.

Fire Chief Al Banken reported only minor damage and said the fire could have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

WHEN YOU SHOPLIFT...

you leave yourself wide open for arrest. It's not a pleasant experience and you can be sure it's one you'll never forget — because it'll be right there on the records, for keeps. Seems foolish, doesn't it, to risk your reputation, your future, and hurt the people you love, for an unimportant item that you can live without. You can live without the consequences of shoplifting, too. Be smart . . . when "friends" try to tell you that it's cool to steal . . . ask them what's so cool about getting busted.

Think Before You Shoplift!

It May Cost You More Than You're Willing To Pay

Deaths

Ernest Jennings

BELL CITY — Ernest E. Jennings, 72, died at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Firmindesloge Hospital in St. Louis after an illness of three years.

A life-long resident of Stoddard County, he was born Nov. 25, 1902 in Bell City to the late Thomas and Ruth Oakley Jennings.

Surviving are four brothers, Paul "Bun", Dale "Fizz" and Dwight "Tumble" Jennings of Bell City and Lowell "Shug" Jennings of Shreveport, La., and one sister, Myrl McCulley of Bell City.

Services were conducted at 1:30 p.m. today in the Bell City General Baptist Church by the Rev. Cletus Lemmons.

Homer R. Blades

He was born Jan. 25, 1909 in Dunklin County to the late James and Nora Welty Blades and was a member of First Assembly of God Church.

Survivors include his widow, Etta Alma Blades, and five brothers, Rubin Blades of Malden, Ira and Wade Blades of Flint, Mich., George Blades of Parma and James Blades of Sacramento, Calif.

Services are scheduled at 2 p.m. Tuesday in First Assembly of God Church with the Rev. D. B. Shaw officiating.

Burial will be in Park Cemetery with Bradshaw Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Franklin Rayburn

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Franklin M. Rayburn, 68, of 224 South Pacific was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Francis Hospital at noon Saturday after being stricken with a heart attack at his home earlier.

He was born Dec. 29, 1905 near Jackson and lived in Cape Girardeau most of his life.

On Feb. 5, 1938 in Cape Girardeau, he married May Seabaugh, who survives.

For many years he was employed by Kimbel and ABF truck lines, and last year he retired as a night watchman on Main street, a post he had held for nine years.

He was a member of Maple Avenue United Methodist Church.

Also surviving are two sons, Franklin Jr. and Richard Rayburn of Cape Girardeau; three daughters, Mrs. Doy Loper of Jackson Star Route, Mrs. Judy Harrison of North Little Rock, Ark., and Mrs. Betty Dean of Wacheta, Wash., two brothers, Walter Rayburn of Sikeston and Lloyd Rayburn of Phoenix, Ariz.' four sisters, Mrs. Doy Hartle and Mrs. Helen Webb of Hannibal, Mrs. Grace Fry of Fort Myers, Fla., and Mrs. Elsie Peters of St. Louis; and 12 grandchildren.

Services were conducted at 3 p.m. today at Ford and Sons Funeral Home by the Rev. James Norris.

Burial will be in Fairmount Cemetery.

The body will be moved to Richards Funeral Home in New Madrid whiere funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Drowning suit set Dec. 10

BLOOMFIELD — A $1,000,000 civil suit filed against the City of Dexter by Johnny and Faye Peacock, parents of 4-year-old John R. "Randy" Peacock, will be heard Dec. 10 in Stoddard County Circuit Court.

The Peacock child drowned May 21 in an open drainage ditch along north Locust Street near Highway 114 in Dexter, following a heavy rain storm.

The Peacocks have charged that the city was negligent in construction of the ditch and in allowing it to exist.

The suit further charges that the open ditch was and is in a dangerous, condition, is open and is in an unguarded condition.

The city's insurance firm will handle the defense during the suit.

Eddie Shephvvm Shephard, 18, and Willie Wilson, 21, of Hayti, passengers in the Jorman car, suffered injuries and were taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital.

Two Muskegon, Mich., residents were injured in a three-vehicle accident at 7:45 p.m. Friday on Highway 25 two and a half miles south of Kennett.

The accident occurred when a northbound car driven by Roger Dale Pruett, 20, of Senath struck the back of a car driven by James Leonard Stidmen, 22, of Jonesboro, Ark., which then struck the back of a car driven by Deborah Lynn Cude, 16, of Muskegon.

Miss Cude and a passenger in her car, Zolema Bell Gilliland, 44, of Muskegon, received minor injuries and were taken to Dunklin County Memorial Hospital.

Three persons were injured in a two-car accident at 11 p.m. Friday on Highway 25 one mile southeast of Cardwell.

The accident occurred when a northbound car driven by David Lynn Arnold, 26, of Blytheville, Ark., was struck in the back end by a southbound car driven by Robert Holt, 58, of Cardwell which crossed the center line.

Ruth E. Arnold, 25, of Memphis, Jimmy Robert Shenwell, 19, of Blytheville and Dwana Sue Enderson, 24, of Jonesboro, Ark., who were passengers in Arnold's car, received minor injuries and were taken to Dunklin County Memorial Hospital.

Nicole Mosley, 11-month-old daughter of Mrs. Jannett Mosley, 20, of Cape Girardeau, received minor injuries at 6:55 p.m. Friday on Sprigg Street north of Cape Girardeau.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Mosley, who was driving a southbound car, failed to yield the right of way to a car driven by Ronald Dale Humphries, 23, of Dudley and was struck.

The Mosley baby was taken to the Southesast Missouri Hospital at Cape Girardeau.

Judy Venable, 15, of Poplar Bluff was seriously injured in a two-vehicle accident at 6:45 p.m. Friday .2 mile east of Poplar Bluff on Highway 60.

The accident occurred when an eastbound pickup truck driven by Gregg Leon Bungart, 20, of Wappapello skidded across the center line and struck a westbound van driven by Fred Venable, 53, of Poplar Bluff.

Miss Venable and two other passengers in the Venable van, Eli Venable, 8, and Joyce Venable, 8, who received minor injuries, were taken to Poplar Bluff Hospital.

Delores Ann Tubb, 18, of Harviell and Sharon Kay Rogers, 17, of Naylor received minor injuries in a one-car accident at 6:30 p.m. Friday on Highway 129 one mile west of Naylor.

The accident occurred when Miss Tubb lost control of her westbound ar while trying to avoid another vehicle pulling onto the highway from a side road, and her car skidded through a bridge railing into a creek.

Neither victim was hospitalized.

The National Weather Service defines a blizzard as a wind of 35 miles an hour or higher, with temperatures 20 degrees Fahrenheit or lower and sufficient falling and/or blowing snow to reduce visibility to less than one-quarter of a mile, The World Almanac says. A "severe blizzard" has wind speeds of 45 miles an hour or more, temperature near or below 10 degrees Fahrenheit and visibility reduced by snow to near zero.

United States.

Shortly afterward, Toby went to work for a Florida-based firm to develop a highway department and supervise road and highway construction in the Southeast Asian country of Laos. More official fumbling and a serious bout with malaria soon brought Toby back to the States minus a job and a lot of pounds from the illness.

Toby's last job came as head of the Scott County Democrat at Benton, which he edited for 14 years. His stint with that newspaper gave him and Mary a chance to settle on a small farm near Benton and for Toby to continue his interest in drawing that had started more than half-a-century before when he started sketching at about age 4. Many of Toby's drawings found their way onto his editorial pages in the form of editorial cartoons.

In addition to their two children, Toby and Mary have five grandchildren, including two daughters of their son Nat, who is a certified public accountant in Farmington, and two daughters and a son of their daughter Mary Ruth, who is a dental technician in Houston, Tex.

Health problems have now brought the Watkinses to their home at 613 Tanner St. The walls of their den now have several of the sketches made in Maine, Equador, and Iceland hanging on them and above the fireplace are the detailed historical sketches Toby was commissioned to prepare for Benton's centennial celebration.

His sketchbooks and folders are filled with hundreds of the drawings collected from their travels; drawings that vary from the landscapes of a Maine fishing harbor to farm scenes, real and imagined from the years in Benton and the years of fertile imagination.

One of the prize albums in their collection is one of all their Christmas cards from past years. Toby has always drawn the cards to have a theme of where he and Mary were living at that particular holiday.

Big Red fail to clinch East title

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "People get tired of coaches talking about team efforts, but this was what it was," Kansas City Coach Hank Stram said.

Stram's underdog Chiefs put pressure Sunday on the St. Louis Cardinals and came off with a 17-13 National Football League upset.

The victory failed to keep East Division-leading St. Louis from clinching at least a National Conference wild card berth in NFL playoffs.

But it did dampen the spirits of Cards quarterback Jim Hart, who threw two costly interceptions in swirling snow flurries.

"No team can play better than its quarterback," muttered Hart, who also heaved a touchdown pass.

"Both were mistakes in judgment," he said in reference to his errant throws.

"I have no excuse for either," he added. "If I'd passed the way I should have been passing, they wouldn't have gotten the ball."

The woes of the Cardinals began after Hart found elusive Terry Metcalf with a 22-yard pass for a 6-0 lead that held through a half.

Then safety Mike Sensibaugh scored a third-quarter Kansas City breakthrough with a piracy at midfield and 18-yard return.

Len Dawson's 21-yard pass set up a four-yard touchdown toss to Jeff Kinney as the Chiefs moved ahead 7-6, and Hart soon afterward fumbled.

St. Louis escaped that miscue only to return immediately to dire straits when linebacker Willie Lanier returned a second Chiefs theft to the Card 3.

Wendell Hayes slammed into the end zone from the 1 for a 14-6 Kansas City lead and Jan Stenerud's 22-yard field goal shoved the Chiefs out of range at 17-6 with only 3:52 left.

"If the quarterback throws the ball right you have a good shot," maintained Hart, who afterward steered the Cards to a late touchdown.

"Did he say that?" asked Cards Coach Don Coryell when advised of Hart's views. "Heck," Coryell insisted, "it was something we all had a part of."

Despite the loss the Cards, 9-3, clinched the wild card berth in the National Conference via a Philadephia Eagles triumph eliminating the Green Bay Packers from playoff contention.

Although the Cards could finish in a tie with the Dallas Cowboys, the spot would be theirs by virtue of a better East Division record.

"Maybe tomorrow but not today," replied Hart when asked if the playoff berth were a consolation.

Also unhappy was Coryell, who conceded "they just beat us" and added, "We didn't complete our passes when we had to."

Hart made good on 19 of 39 aerials for 194 yards but the Cards, following a strong opening period, afterward went more than 25 minutes without a first down.

"They're tough," fullback Jim Otis said in respect to the Chiefs, "but we didn't execute. We didn't do well on first down plays."

The Kansas City team effort Stram described included a 47-yard sprint by rookie Cleophus Miller in the final quarter which set up Stenerud's field goal.

"We went from a 3-4 defensive alignment to a four-man line using four linebackers," Stram explained in respect to the Kansas City defense.

"This was a big factor, but overall I thought we just got a great team effort," he added.

The victory lifted Kansas City's record to 5-7 in the American Conference West and Stram noted, "We've still got a shot at a .500 mark.

"We haven't had a losing season in 10 years and I'd like to make it 11," Stram said. "Everybody's been predicting we'd finish 4-10."

Southeast U. wins opener

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Coach Bob Cradic's Southeat Missouri State University tipped off its season Saturday night at Houck field House with a rousing 101-65 victory over Concordia Seminary of St. Louis.

The Indians started slow, falling behind 10-4 before regrouping and racking up 15 straight points to move ahead for good.

SEMO raced to a 51-37 first half lead, displaying a tenacious defense after its shaky start, steam rolling their opponents 50-28 in the last half.

Marvin Haynes and Steve Valle scored 17 points each and led a balanced SEMO scoring effort that included six players with double figures. Mark Baker added 14, Joe Cagle 13 and Tom Mitchell and Larry Rogrs chipped in 10 points each while five others shared in the scoring.

Southeast travels to Arkansas State at Jonesboro Thursday night.

Hawks rely on FT

NEW MADRID — Coach Nick Lanphers' Kelly Hawks, rated eighth in the first high school basketball poll of the season, tipped off its season here Tuesday night with a 76-62 win over the NMHS Indians.

New Madrid hustled its way into a 18-16 first quarter lead, but failed to do little with the Hawks defense the next two quarters and fell behind 51-38 as the fourth quarter began and was never able to recover despite a 24 point fourth period scoring outburst.

Russ Mothershead wheeled and dealed for 24 points to lead Kelly's offense, which relied on its charity shooting to claim the victory as both teams hit 27 shots from the field. KHS canned 22 of 26 shots from the line while NMHS managed only eight. Steve Glenn led the Indians offense with 24 points.

Kelly's junior varsity tipped off the night with a 49-42 victory behind the 17 point leadership of Ditthinger. Humphrey scored 10 for the Indians.

Hickman slaughters Sumner in final

By The Associated Press

Columbia Hickman, Boonville, St. Louis Country Day and Lockwood are the champions of Missouri high school football.

The Hickman Kewpies had a field day Saturday, mauling St. Louis Sumner 54-6 in the Class 4-A championship playoffs at Columbia. Boonville dethroned Washington 34-14 in the Class 3-A showdown.

Country Day broke away in the second period to rout Pleasant Hill 34-7 in Class 2-A, and Lockwood, behind quarterback Bruce Lilienkamp, trampled King City 34-0 in the Class 1-A finale.

The Kewpies went right to work on Sumner, romping for 21 points in the opening quarter. David Williams scored three times and Gerry Ellis twice. Williams made touchdowns on runs of one, eight and eight yards. Ellis scored on runs of 10 and 12 yards.

Sumner avoided a shutout in the second quarter when Ben Cowins raced 24 yards for a touchdown. Hickman ground out 316 yards rushing and added 102 yards through the air.

After a scoreless first half, Boonville erupted for 26 points in the third quarter against Washington. Mark Thomas made the Pirates' first two touchdowns, running three yards for one and grabbing an eight-yard pass from Mark Hitner for the other.

Washington came up with two touchdowns in the last period. Rick Alfermann ran 13 yards for six points, and Ted Stahl threw a 10-yard pass to Tim Calvin for the contest's final touchdown.

Gary Forrest scored on runs of one, 26 and one yards for three Country Day touchdowns. Bobby Clamp made two more, running one and 26 yards. Pleasant Hill went ahead first, scoring on a one-yard rush by Kyle Clark.

Lilienkamp put on a big show for Lockwood. He tossed four touchdown passes and fan five yards for another score. His payoff passes were to Jim Parker and Nathan Wehrman, each catching two. Lockwood, after moving ahead with eight points in the second quarter, wrappted up the game with a 26-point outburst in the final period.

Hornets display defense

By BILL HARRISON

ADVANCE — Defense is the name of the game! There are few if any teams in sports that can win a championship of any sort without a good defense and it was the defense that propelled the Advance Hornets past Memphis, Tenn. Woodale high school here Saturady night 72-66.

Woodale had the offense except maybe lacking a good guard in the lineup. They could run and shoot extremely well but Coach Carroll Cookson surprised the tall team from Memphis with a full court press and forced enough turnovers to help the Hornets to an 18-6 first period lead and they held on from there to win he game.

Woodale had a 6-6 center in the lineup but big David Tropf, who probably plays his best games when he is forced to, and forward Royce Yount kept control of the backboards throughout most of the game. Danny Long had probably his most productive game defensively wise of he season. Tropf was devastating both offensively and defensively. The 6-6 center ended the game with a total of 26 points.

After Advance took the lead in the first period Woodale began to get their offense in gear and they do have a potant offense if allowed to operate properly, the Memphis team outscored their host 18-17 in the second quarter but trailed 35-24 at the half.

The Hornets kept the defensive pressure on their opponent in the third period with guard Steve Cookson doing a fine job out front forcing bad passes to the inside and Tropf and Yount, along with Long kept Advance's lead intact through the third period. The Hornets took the quarter 22-18. With an 11 point lead early in the fourth period, Woodale's Johnny Miller began to click. The big forawrd ended the game with 26 points, all from fine outside shooting. Woodale began to cut into the lead and with three minutes left in the game Advance's lead had been trimmed to five points.

At this point the Hornets missed three straight snowbird shots and Woodale cut the lead to 67-64 with a minute left. Advance made a key steal in the last minute and forced Woodale into fouls as the Hornets attempted to run the clock down.

Defense was the key factor in the Hornets junior varsity victory 35-31. With Steve Vavak supplying the offense with 23 points his teammates did an excellent job of putting the defense to Woodale.

SC storms from 24-0 deficit

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Southern California, the 1972 national champion, and Notre Dame, the 1973 national champion, provided a fitting wind-up to college football's bizarre regular season Saturday, with the result that neither team is likely to be the 1974 national champion.

Notre Dame's successor undoubtedly will be either Oklahoma, No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, or runner-up Alabama. Both are 11-0—the only teams with perfect records. But Oklahoma, on probation and ineligible for a postseason appearance, has completed its campaign while Alabama must face a frustrated Notre Dame squad in the Orange Bowl.

"There are only two undefeated teams left now," Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer said Saturday after his Sooners packed it in for 1974 by turning back Oklahoma State's strong challenge 44-13 thanks to a 28-point fourth quarter. "I saw the other one (Alabama) play on television Friday and I believe we are the better team. I know we are a more physical team."

In the game Switzer saw, Alabama held off No. 7 Auburn 17-13 and wound up its regular season with a fourth straight Southeastern Conference crown.

The national championship will be decided after the bowl games by the sports writers and sportscasters who vote in The AP poll.

Meanwhile, sixth-ranked Southern California ended Notre Dame's hopes of repeating as national champ Saturday with an incredbile rally that erased a 24-0 deficit and lifted the Trojans to an amazing 55-24 rout of fifth-ranked Notre Dame after they trailed 24-0 late in the first half. It was Notre Dame's worst licking since a 59-0 mauling by Army in 1944 and the worst defeat in Ara Parseghian's 11 years as coach.

Also on Friday, No. 17 Texas trounced eighth-ranked Texas A&M 32-3, dousing the Aggies' Cotton Bowl hopes and sending Baylor against 10th-ranked Penn State in Dallas on Jan. 1.

With its Cotton Bowl berth secure, Baylor, 16th in The AP ratings, clinched an outright Southwest Conference championship Saturday by whipping Rice 24-3. On Thursday night, Penn State whipped No. 18 Pitt 31-10.

Houston was the only other Top Twenty team in action over the weekend and the 15th-ranked Cougars, headed for the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl, were stunned 30-14 by Tulsa's Missouri Valley champs.

But the game that capped the holiday weekend football binge was Southern Cal's fantastic rally, led by Notre Dame-killer Anthony Davis' four touchdowns, including a 100-yard romp with the second-half kikoff that swung the tide the Trojans' way.

"The kickoff was the main turning point," said Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian.

The Irish rolled up a 24-0 lead before Davis scored on a seven-yard pitch from Pat Haden 10 seconds before halftime to make it 24-6. Following his long kickoff return—the sixth of his career, an NCAA record—Davis added touchdown runs of six and four yards and a two-point conversion dash before the third period was over, lifting the Trojans into a 27-24 lead.

Haden fired scoring passes of 18 and 45 yards to Johnny McKay, capping a wild 35-point period, and Southern Cal scored twice more in the final quarter on Haden's fourth scoring pass—a 16-yarder to Shelton Diggs—and Charles Phillips' 58-yard interception return.

The four touchdowns gave Davis 11 in three scraps with Notre Dame. He destroyed the Irish with a six-touchdown spree two years ago.

"Yes," Parseghian said, "the momentum did shift on that kickoff return by Davis. Then we had the punt return, then the fumble and then..."

It hurt too much to go on.

Oklahoma trailed Oklahoma State 13-10 until Grant Burget's four-yard scoring run in the third period broke the dam. Steve Davis tallied on a one-yard run to start the fourth-period deluge, Joe Washington scored on a 57-yard punt return and a five-yard run and freshman Elvis Peacock darted 10 yards to wrap it up.

On Friday, Alabama jumped to a 10-0 lead over Auburn on Willie Shelby's 45-yard run with a screen pass from Richard Todd and Bucky Berrey's 36-yard field goal. Calvin Culliver's 13-yard run made it 17-7 in the third period and the Crimson Tide held on the rest of the way.

Today in U. S. History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1942, a nuclear chain reaction was demonstrated for the first time by scientists working on a secret project at the University of Chicago.

On this date —

In 1805, the armies of Napoleon were victorious in the Battle of Austerlitz in what is now Czechoslovakia.

In 1960, the head of the Anglican Church, the Archbishop of Canterbury, broke church precedent by visiting Pope John XXIII at the Vatican.

Ten years ago: Pope Paul XI flew to Bombay, India to attend the International Eucharistic Congress and was greeted by a crowd of one million.

Five years ago: Fifty-four persons perished in a flash fire in a home for the aged at Notre Dame du Lac, Quebec.

One year ago: The U.S. Senate, meeting in its first Sunday session in 112 years, failed to break a filibuster that was blocking legislation to extend the government's debt limit and finance presidential campaigns with public funds.

Thought for today: There is many a good man to be found under a shabby hat — Chinese proverb.

Soaring sugar prices, boycotts boost food bill

Associated Press

Soaring sugar prices, already the target of government probes and consumer boycotts, boosted the price of the family grocery bill during November, an Associated Press market-basket survey shows.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the prices on March 1, 1973 at a supermarket in each of 13 cities and has rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month.

The latest survey showed the bill was up during November in every city except Dallas, where sugar was unavailable and therefore did not boost the total as it did elsewhere.

The average November increase in the 12 cities where the bill went up was 6 per cent. If sugar was removed from the total, however, the rise was only seven-tenths of one per cent. Not counting sugar, the bill declined in six of the 12 cities and stayed the same in one.

During October, the AP market-basket bill was up in seven cities, down in four and unchanged in two.

A comparison of current prices with those at the beginning of the year showed the marketbasket bill up in every city, with an average increase of 20 per cent. Again, much of the increase was due to disproportionately large boosts in the cost of sugar which more than tripled in some areas as worldwide demand shot up.

Government authorities have predicted that food prices overall will rise about 15 or 16 per cent this year. The Council on Wage and Price Stability held hearings in Washington, D.C., last week to investigate sugar prices and a house subcommittee plans another probe this week.

Farmers, refiners and retailers repeatedly have denied that they are taking advantage of consumers by charging high prices for sugar. Farmers concede they're getting more money —raw sugar is selling for about 60 cents a pound, about five times what it was a year ago—but they argue that their costs for things like fuel and fertilizer have risen sharply. They also contend that they need the profits on sugar to make up for losses on other farm items like cattle.

There were scattered sales, generally reflecting lower prices paid to farmers in recent months. The price of a pound of chopped chuck, for example, was down in six cities, unchanged in four and up in only three. Eggs went down in four cities, were unchanged in three and went up in six.

The day of the week on which the check was made varied depending on the month. Standard brands and sizes were used when available. If the requested size and brand was not available on March 1, 1973, a comparable substitute was selected. Items temporarily out of stock on one of the survey dates being compared were not included in the over-all total.

The latest government marketbasket showed that during October, the cost of a year's supply of groceries rose $4 to another record high.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, all-beef frankfurters and granulated sugar.

The cities checked were: Albuquerque, Atlanta, Ga., Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Salt Lake City and Seattle.

NFO opens annual convention in Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP) — The National Farmers Organization opens its annual convention here this week angry about low profits for farmers amid high food prices.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley said Sunday the theme of the meeting will be "Are farmers going to take it (low profits) or fight?"

"Out of this convention we hope to give farmers a plan to fight," he said. "Farmers throughout the nation are going to see how determined our farmers are to correct low prices."

He said the NFO has "gone from the defensive to the offensive" in the past year and if they decide to withhold their farm products from the market it would be done in " a systematic way."

"It's not a matter of if farmers can do it, but just if farmers can do it in a legal way," he said.

He said that while profits for farmers have dropped 30 per cent for milk, cattle and hogs, retail prices have not followed the decline.

"It doesn't make sense for them (retailers) to have the prices they have," he said. "It's the big question everyone's been trying to answer. All we know is that farmers have been taking a drop."

The nation's milk and meat supplies would be gone within a week if farmers withheld their products because of low profits, he said.

"Food is produced on the farm and farmers own it first," said Oren Lee Staley. "We feel it is just as patriotic to keep products on the farm as it is for coal miners to strike and keep coal in the mines."

Staley of Rea, Mo., spoke with newsmen prior to the NFO's 19th annual convention that begins Wednesday. More than 12,000 persons will attend, he said.

Staley, NFO president since its founding in 1955, will be challenged in his re-election effort amid recent NFO financial troubles. The Security and Exchange Commission has filed several suits against the group, charging violations of federal security laws.

The SEC has said the NFO's liabilities outstrip its assets and the organization is not capable of repaying more than $7 million borrowed from its members.

Staley said, however, the NFO "has met the challenge" of the SEC and that a September fund-raising meeting brought $5 million, enabling the organization to meet its financial responsibilities."
